Truman In No Hurry On Plans For '52

Won't Announce Before Mid-January, He Tells Reporters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—President Truman said today he will make public his decision on whether he will run in 1952 when it is politically expedient. He emphasized he will choose his own time for the announcement and indicated it would not be before mid-January.

The President said he will be busy from now on preparing his three annual messages to Congress which will start its second session Jan. 3.

Mr. Truman also told his news conference that he stands on his previous statement that Soviet Russian agreements are nothing but scraps of paper. This was in response to a request for comment on Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky's statement that it is hardly possible that relations between the U. S. and Russia can be worse in view of the President's "scrap of paper" remark during a recent speech.

In commenting on a list of campaign issues presented by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), the President said he is against sin, too.

Taft said, in announcing his candidacy for the G.O.P. presidential nomination, that the issues would be liberty from socialistic controls, honesty and integrity in government, and "mistakes" in judgment on foreign relations.

On other subjects Mr. Truman said:

1. General MacArthur's assertion in Miami that he had "unquestionably wrecked" a secret plan to let Formosa fall to the Communists and permit Red China to enter the United Nations, is not based on fact and the general knew it.

2. William M. Boyle Jr. quit as Democratic national chairman because of health. The President said he has not had time to think about a successor to Boyle.

3. He wrote Senator Taft saying he understood the Ohioan had thrown his hat into the presidential ring and was sure Taft was going to have a lot of fun from now on.

4. He hopes Congress will pass a tax increase bill because of its tremendous effect on the budget.

Delaware County Judge Named

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(UP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced the appointment today of Henry W. Wolfe of Delaware, to common pleas judge of Delaware County succeeding Judge Fred A. McAllister, who died last week.

Wolf was admitted to the bar in 1935. A graduate of Ohio State University, he is married, and the father of ten children.

Truck Driver Killed In Kenton Crash

KENTON, Oct. 18 — A truck driver from West Virginia was killed in Kenton today when the semi-trailer truck he was driving crashed into the side of an Erie Railroad freight train at 4:30 a. m.

Douglas Wesley Martin, 31, of Pulaski, W. Va., was driving north on Route 31 with a load of furniture in a truck owned by the Hennis Freight Lines, Inc., of Winston-Salem, N. C. He collided with the eastbound train at the south edge of Kenton, just inside the city limits. There are no gates at the crossing.

Kenton police believe that Martin fell asleep while driving, as there were no skid marks in the road. The cab of the truck was demolished.

The train was damaged only slightly and went on after stopping for a few minutes.

Police report that head injuries were the cause of death. The body was taken to the Hull Funeral Home in Kenton and will be sent to West Virginia for funeral services.

ACCUSES STASSEN. Ambassador Philip Jessup, under oath before a senate foreign relations subcommittee, accuses Harold E. Stassen of resorting to a "grasshopper technique" in an effort to free himself "from the morass of mis-statements in which he has become mired." The subcommittee is studying President Truman's controversial nomination of Jessup as a United Nations delegate.

Authorities Swamped With Calls

Many Offer To Adopt Children Mistreated By Father and Mother

Juvenile authorities were swamped yesterday and today with calls from people in Marion and throughout the state offering to care for or adopt the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Amos.

The children are now in the custody of the Marion County Child Welfare Board. Their parents pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of abuse and neglect and were sentenced to terms in the Columbus workhouse.

The Amos' four-month-old child, who was sent to the Marion City Hospital Monday after examination by a physician, is reported improving today under hospital care. He is suffering from malnutrition.

The other seven children are in the receiving ward at the Marion County Children's Home. Two of them are scheduled to be sent to the homes of relatives as soon as their physical condition allows, court authorities reported today.

To Begin Terms Today

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Amos were scheduled to be taken to the Columbus workhouse today to begin serving their terms.

Amos pleaded guilty to charges of beating three of his children in a cruel and abusive manner and of neglecting all of them. He was sentenced to one year in the workhouse.

Mrs. Amos pleaded guilty to a charge of neglecting her children. She was sentenced to six months in the workhouse.

The children were removed permanently from the custody of their parents.

Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo said he and Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell and authorities at the Children's Home have been swamped with calls from persons asking that they might adopt one or more of the Amos children. Some of the calls have come from out of the city.

Heartening Response

"The response of the public to the plight of these children is most heartening," Judge Ruzzo said.

He said the baby evoked the biggest respose.

One man called and said that he would like to be allowed to keep the baby until it could be placed in a home permanently. He told the judge his wife was a registered nurse and he already had several children, but he realized the baby would have to have a place to stay after it was released from the hospital.

"The calls we are getting are from responsible persons, with fine reputations," Judge Ruzzo said. "That's what is making the whole thing so heartening."

Wards Of Welfare Board

However the decision as to who may adopt the children rests with the Marion County Child Welfare Board. Juvenile Court awarded the board custody of the children after taking them from their parents.

Application must be made to the board, of which Mrs. Mildred Schuetz is secretary and case worker.

Then the application will be reviewed, the home examined and the prospective parents interviewed by board representatives. If all is found satisfactory the child is placed in the home on a temporary basis.

If the child and foster parents get along well together, the child may then be placed in the home permanently and be legally adopted.

Grandparents Care For One

The oldest boy, Howard H. Amos, 14, is being placed in the home of his maternal grandparents. They have expressed a desire to care for him.

The other children and their ages are as follows: Wanda, 12, Martin, 11, Maxine, 7, Donald, 5, Russell, 4, Terry, 3, and the baby, 4-months-old.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos had one other girl, a ninth child, who is now seven years old. However she has been living with an aunt since she was three years old. The aunt has adopted her, and the girl has taken her aunt's name.

Three of the pre-school age children will be placed temporarily in a foster home in Morrow County, Judge Ruzzo reported. They are Donald, Russell and Terry. They will be left there until they are adopted.

The plight of the children came to light Monday when Martin Amos turned up at school with a bruised and cut back. Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell was called and with Deputy Sheriff Elmer Ullom an investigation of the family's Cottage street home began. Two other Amos children were discovered with bruised and cut backs. They had been beaten by their father with a belt. The baby was found in a pasteboard box crib, suffering from malnutrition.

All Undernourished

All the children were taken to a physician where they were examined. The physician said they were all suffering from the effects of not having enough to eat.

Off To $97,764 Goal

Chest Workers To Give First Report Tomorrow

Workers in the annual Marion County Red Feather Community Chest Drive are looking forward to the first report meeting Friday when figures will be posted on their efforts to raise $97,764, the amount needed to finance the work of the agencies in the Marion Community Foundation.

One of the biggest tasks in the campaign is that of the Industrial Employes division, headed by Robert W. Fay. Their quota is $14,664.60.

Today, Mr Fay and his workers reported 41 local industrial plants and business firms in which management and employes are carrying on over-all plant solicitation, and stated that four others are engaged in working out plans for the same method of subscribing to the annual drive.

In all these firms, management and union officials have agreed on the employe plan of solicitation either through pledges covering a period of time, or cash.

To say the workers are jubilant is an understatement, Mr Fay says. With the practically over-all coverage, more than 8,000 persons will be contacted as against slightly more than 5,000 last year. Last year only 29 firms were listed in the management-employe solicitation.

Companies In Program

Chinese Quit Key Hills In West Korea

Fade Before Attacking Americans; Stiffen Defenses in Center

U. S 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 18—(AP)—Chinese suddenly abandoned a series of key hills in western Korea to attacking Americans today. But they stiffened against Allies crunching forward toward their Kumsong stronghold in the center.

The Americans had been fighting for the ridge line for two weeks in one of the bloodiest small actions of the entire United Nations autumn offensive. Chinese deserted the western hills during the night after beating off a series of flame-throwing attacks Wednesday.

Promise Senate Fight On Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Senate today debates the $8,025,128,000 foreign aid bill from which its appropriation committee cut five percent in the amounts voted by the House.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn) and other administration senators said they were disturbed over this cut and would fight it.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) replied that any such effort would bring on "a major controversy" and probably lead to proposals for bigger reductions.

Season Starts Tomorrow

Delaware Dam Area Open To Duck Hunters

The Delaware Dam area between Waldo and Delaware will be opened for duck hunting tomorrow for the first time when the Ohio duck season opens, O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, county game protector, announced today.

Permission to open the area to duck hunters has been granted by the Division of Wildlife. A special check station has been set up to control hunting in that area. The station will be located east of Norton just off Route 229. Signs directing hunters to the station will be erected on Routes 23 and 229.

The 45-day season on ducks, geese and coots opens at noon tomorrow and runs through Dec. 2. After opening day hunting hours will be between one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. Bag and possession limits remain the same as last year. The bag limit is four and the possession limit is eight. The bag or possession limit may include one wood duck only.

No Permit Limit

The Wildlife Division said there would be no limit to the number of duck hunting permits issued in the dam area. Only one check station will operate for the waterfowl season but for the pheasant and rabbit season three will be operated.

The check station will check all hunters for the special federal duck stamp required in ac-

23 Killed In Canadian Plane Crash

None Survive As Airliner Hits Peak Near Vancouver, B.C.

NANAIMO, B. C., Oct. 18—(AP)—A Queen Charlotte Airlines plane, laboring futilely at full throttle to gain altitude, crashed into the side of a mountain 10 miles from here last night, carrying 23 persons to their death.

The victims were 30 miles from their destination at Vancouver, B. C., nearing the end of a southbound 400 mile flight from Kemano, when the twin-engined craft hit the rocky side of 5,000 foot Mount Benson. All those aboard except the three crew members were believed to be loggers and construction workers.

Owen Jones of Nanaimo, one of the first to reach wreckage of the amphibious plane after a three-hour climb up the mountainside, said six charred bodies were found nearby.

"The others must have burned up," he said. "My God it was an awful mess."

Jones said what appeared to be the hands of a woman were sticking through a piece of fuselage, although there had been no report that a woman was aboard. A red sweater and a red slipper were nearby.

All Bodies Charred

"I don't think they'll ever recognize anyone," Jones said. "All the bodies were intact but they were all charred."

Jones said the plane crashed about 100 feet below a bluff but there was another bluff beyond.

"If the plane had climbed the other way it would have been over the sea and safe," he said.

"The right wing was standing straight up in the air, and there was one float but that was all that was in one piece."

The accident was witnessed by Keith Price, operator of a power station near this city, which is 150 miles northwest of Seattle.

Price said it was about 6:50 p .m. P.S.T., (9:30 p. m. E.S.T.) when the plane circled his station at an altitude of about 50 feet, veered west and narrowly missed 130,000 volt power lines. Then, he related, the plane roared at full throttle toward the mountain in an apparent attempt to

Green Raps Congress, Price Control Laws

Claims Inflation, Housing Crisis Hurt Morale of Workers

MIAMI, Oct. 18—(AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor charged today that Congress has sanctioned "ruthless profiteering and price-gouging" in the present price control laws.

He told the final session of the American Legion national convention the twin evils of inflation and a housing crisis are threatening to undermine the morale of American defense workers.

Green gave his views in a speech prepared for delivery in the closing hours of the convention which yesterday heard Gen. Douglas MacArthur deliver a bitter attack against the Truman administration's military, domestic and foreign policies.

The delegates appeared ready to elect Don R. Wilson of Clarksburg, W. V., as their new national commander to succeed Erle Cocke Jr., of Georgia. Mrs. E. A.

Tension Mounting

Bridge Over Canal Seized by British; 2 Egyptians Killed

CAIRO, EGYPT, Oct. 18—(AP)—British troops seized the only bridge over the Suez Canal in a short, sharp battle with Egyptian troops guarding it yesterday. Two Egyptians were killed.

The action took place before dawn. Egyptian censors held up news about it for 24 hours.

A British army spokesman said the canal area was quiet again last night and today.

It was the second successive day the British had fought with Egyptians. They opened fire Tuesday on rioters and looters at Ismailia, where the Egyptian government said seven were killed. The British said they fired in self-defense.

But today the British moved to ease tension at Ismailia, site of a British army sub-command. Egyptian officials said the Britons agreed to pull their troops out of the town of 50,000 and leave it in control of Egyptian police.

The British, meanwhile, were due to complete today the transfer by air of 3,500 parachute troops from the Mediterranean island of Cyprus to the canal area where 40,000 or more British soldiers and airmen already were on the alert.

Leaves for Area

The commander of Britain's land forces in the Middle East, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, left London by air today for the Suez area. He is due there tomorrow afternoon.

The El Ferdan bridge, scene of yesterday's battle, links Africa and Asia. Its eastern end is on the railway to the Holy Land. The bridge site is where the Holy Family reportedly crossed on its flight into Egypt.

Way Cleared For Galion-Crestline Airport Funds

The way has been cleared for the government to spend $17,022 on improving the Galion-Crestline airport at Galion, Rep. Betts said today.

Betts told an Associated Press reporter the comptroller general of the United States has approved spending of this sum on the airport by the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA).

Galion already has received $17,100 for airport improvement and it was promised a similar sum later.

But the community was kept waiting several months for CAA allocation of federal funds after a legal hitch developed.

CAA refused to match local funds until the comptroller general had made his decision.

Women Voters Compile Facts On Candidates

Bulletin To Be Distributed In City By Scouts

A bulletin, containing facts about the various candidates who are running for office in the November election, has been compiled by the Marion League of Women Voters.

Each home in the city will receive one of the bulletins next week when Boy Scouts will canvass the city distributing 10,000 of the leaflets. The Scouts are to start Monday night.

Non-partisan voting information on the Marion city election, to be held Nov. 6, is contained in the bulletins, the material being received from questionnaires submitted by the League. The Marion League, whose purpose is to encourage intelligent participation in government, prepared the bulletin as a part of its service to the public.

In addition to personal information regarding the person, each candidate for mayor, president of council, councilman-at-large and ward councilman was asked the question, "State your opinion of the proposed legislation for financing the city sewage disposal system.

Replies to the questionnaires sent out by the Marion League were received from all but six candidates.

In addition to facts about the candidates, the bulletin also contains information on the special issues to be voted on in the election. These include the sewage disposal bond issue; the proposed tax levy for the purpose of providing additional funds for current expenses of the subdivision, maintenance of sewage treatment plant and system; the proposed tax levy for the purpose of providing additional funds for recreational purposes; and also the proposed 4-mill school operating levy.

Members of the Marion League will receive copies of the bulletin this week. They were placed in the mail today.

Buys Control Of Auto Agency

R. A. McMahon Heads Lincoln-Mercury

Robert A. McMahon of 299 Homer street today announced his purchase of controlling interest of the Marion Lincoln-Mercury Co. Inc. at 203 South Main street.

The purchase was made from Dr. Floyd Yeager, who will remain in the firm as vice president and secretary. Floyd Schaffner was retained as treasurer.

Mr. McMahon will serve as president and general manager. He succeeds Dr. Yeager as president and Edwin Goggins as manager.

Mr. MaMahon said the auto agency will continue to operate under the same program.

Mr. McMahon has been connected with the automotive business for the last 20 years. All of that time has been spent with the

Secret U. S. Peace Bid Is Rejected

Vishinsky Makes Counter-offer On East-West Tensions

WASHINGTON, Oct 18—(AP)—Moscow has rebuffed a secret U. S. proposal that she act to bring about an armistice in Korea, offering instead to talk over the general causes of East-West tension.

Initial State Department reaction was that this offer was propaganda, but the wording of the Russian note was such as to set off guessing among diplomats as to whether the Kremlin is sincere.

Moscow and the State Department disclosed last night that ambassador Alan G. Kirk on Oct. 5 made the approach for Soviet intervention to end the deadlock between United Nations and negotiators and the Communists.

Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky gave no direct reply, but he noted that Russia is "not a party to these negotiations."

He also: (1) charged the U.N. command created the cease-fire stalemate with "all kinds of incidents"; (2) supported the North Korean-Chinese position regarding a truce line in the area of the 38th Parallel; and (3) offered the Soviet's "full and energetic support" of measures for "the successful conclusion of negotiations"—successful presumably from the Red viewpoint.

Questions Faith

Vishinsky also questioned the good faith of assurances from Kirk that the U. S. and its western Allies are arming only for defense and have no "aggressive designs" on Russia or any nation.

Vishinsky commented tartly that "this sort of statement" is contradicted by actions "which show that the government of the U.S.A. is not at all concerned with the maintenance of peace."

As examples, he complained of economic measures the U. S. has taken recently against Russia and the Soviet bloc and of President Truman's statement that agreements with Russia aren't worth the paper they are written on.

The rebuff convinced top American officials that at the moment Moscow is not interested in confidential negotiations like those which ended the Berlin blockade. They tabbed Vishinsky's response "propaganda."

Charles E. Bohlen, State Department counselor and Secretary Acheson's principal adviser on relations with the Kremlin, told reporters: "It is characteristic of Soviet procedure that when they are seriously interested in any subject they don't publicize it the way they did this."

Door May Be Open

At the same time some officials thought they detected two possible hints that Moscow may be willing both to reach a settlement in Korea and to discuss the settlement of other East-West issues. They noted:

1. Vishinsky reaffirmed that Russia is standing by its proposal of last June which initiated the Korean armistice talks. This was that Moscow had in mind an armistice on a military basis with political considerations to be left for the future.

2. The foreign minister wound up his 2,000-word statement by saying Russian "agrees to examine with the participation of the government of the U.S.A. all important and unsettled questions and to discuss measures for the improvement of international relations, including relations between the Soviet Union and the U.S.A."

Some authorities speculated this referred to the announcement last month by Acheson and the British and French foreign ministers rather than to anything Kirk said. This was that the western powers held to the view that a peaceful settlement of East-West issues is possible, and that the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly at Paris next month would afford an opportunity for discussions.

Kirk's approach was made with the advance knowledge of Britain and France and of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the U.N. commander, officials said. It was decided on as a means of taking the Kremlin's temperature because Kirk was preparing to leave Moscow before retiring as ambassador, and could talk with Vishinsky in a farewell call.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Foreign Import

"Foreign Intrigue," a new television film series shot in Sweden by a bright, young and rather staggeringly energetic young 26-year-old named Sheldon Reynolds, was not primarily intended as a poke in the nose for Hollywood. But that's what it amounts to.

"Foreign Intrigue" (NBC-TV 10:30 p.m. E.S.T. Thursdays) is written, directed and produced—Mr. Reynolds takes care of all those chores personally — with taste, intelligence and an almost total absence of cliche. In other words, it resembles the normal Hollywood - produced TV films about as closely as "The Third Man" resembles a bad Charlie Chan movie. I tossed "The Third Man" in there deliberately because "Foreign Intrigue" has a good deal of "The Third Man" in its bloodstream.

John Crosby

As its title implies it is terribly continental, overpoweringly suave and aswarm with spies, black market operators and other European scum intent on enriching themselves or gaining mastery over the rest of us. In the middle of all this is a young American reporter named Cannon who unseats the blackguards and then reports it in a blaze of glory to something called the Associated News. In that respect, "Foreign Intrigue" has a slight aroma of "Crime Photographer," "Boston Blackie" and the rest of them.

* * *

HOWEVER, IF YOU can manage to swallow this basically improbable story line, you'll find the rest of "Foreign Intrigue" rewarding. Its characters, while villainous, resemble people. Its dialogue is crisp and pointed and sounds, of all things, as if someone had taken the trouble of writing it rather than (as is the case in Hollywood - produced films) of pulling it out of the filing cabinet.

Reynolds chose Europe to shoot his stories because it can be done there for about one-fifth the cost of the same thing in Hollywood, and landed specifically in Sweden because a Swedish accent is sufficiently generalized to resemble all the other accents in Europe. Apart from the two permanent members of the cast, the reporter Cannon played by Jerone Thor, and his wife played by Sydna Scott, both Americans, the cast is entirely Swedish (and incidentally, contains names which, I imagine, only another Swede could pronounce, much less spell.)

* * *

THIS EUROPEAN casting is another fortunate and welcome inspiration on the part of Mr. Reynolds because — as I've remarked on other occasions—Hollywood faces are cliches in their own right, each villain resembling all the other villains, each pretty, nubile lass bearing the same markings and conformation of all the other pretty, nubile lasses. In "Foreign Intrigue," the faces are arrestingly original; the acting, with a few glaring exceptions, is extremely competent; and the characters they are asked to play behave strangely like adults rather than grown up children as do so many of the Hollywood-operated products.

Right here I would like to make a clear distinction between Hollywood films made for theaters which, people keep telling me, are better than ever, and films made for television which, as any fool can plainly see, are worse than ever. There's no doubt in my mind that Hollywood can produce reasonably intelligent and mature pictures for television as it does for theaters. But it doesn't. The reason it doesn't, I firmly believe, lies simply in an attitude, a state of mind, which can be summed up very simply. "People will look at anything on television so why botner to make it good."

* * *

PEOPLE WILL NOT look at just anything on television and, if Hollywood had a shred of respect for its own reputation, it would not put its fancy label on all these little filmed horrors that are being shown on television stations all over the country. Shoddy bits of acting, direction, writing, even scene construction which, heaven knows, they ought to know all about, are permitted to slip into Hollywood - produced shows. They wouldn't be tolerated in even the flimsiest whodunit emanating from New York.

The Hollywood know-how is celebrated the world over. But, unless you have the price of admission to the nearest movie house, you can't find anything approximating professional theatrical competence in anything made in Hollywood. Not in your own parlor, you can't.

$4,355 In Court Fines Distributed

Distribution of $4,355.43, receipts in fines and costs during September by Municipal Court, was announced today.

The city treasurer received $2,544.85, of which $2,200.30 was earmarked for the general fund and $344.55 went for street repair and maintenance. The state treasurer received $943.05 of which $344.55 was for fines on state highway patrol arrests and $598.50 was for fines on arrests by state board of liquor control agents.

The county treasurer received $832.50 and Sheriff LeRoy Retterer received $35 turnkey fee.

The court collected $2,276.96 as costs in civil cases.

Pressure Always There

JESSE H. JONES, the Texas banker and businessman who used to soothe Americans suspecting that Franklin D. Roosevelt wanted to get rid of free enterprise, has reached the memoirs stage of his life.

He confirms the suspicion which many members of both parties had while Mr. Jones was in charge of RFC and the Department of Commerce —that he was in a fight to the finish inside his own party with men like Henry A. Wallace who had big ideas about using their authority to make over the U.S.A.

Moreover, Mr. Jones reveals in his memoirs that pressure on the RFC to help loyal Democrats at public expense always was there; that he resisted it even though it sometimes came from the White House.

There is much more in the Jesse Jones memoirs which makes it clear that the nature of government hasn't changed in the last few thousand years; that the little foxes everlastingly try to spoil the vines and are held at bay only by keepers of the vineyard who stay awake and have no sympathy for the little foxes.

The Texan who once supplied prestige to an Administration capable of trying to make Henry Wallace chief executive of the nation has written a handbook for the party of the opposition in the forthcoming campaign.

Everywhere East of Suez

HAVING been forced out of Iran, the British will be determined to stand on their legal rights in Egypt, where they either must control the Suez Canal or surrender what is left of their overseas influence.

Here again, Americans will have to make a hard decision between what they know is right and what they think is expedient. As was true in Iran, the British have no moral basis for overriding the sovereignty of a country whose government is hostile to them. But as was true in Iran, the consequences of retreat from an untenable moral position may be economically and politically disastrous.

This seems destined to be the pattern of events as nationalism crystalizes in the Middle East and Far East and perhaps, later, in Africa. Arrangements which offered great economic and political advantages to nations which were willing to bear the "white man's burden" will be toppled over systematically by oriental irredentists.

Spence Earns His Letter

BRENT SPENCE of Kentucky, who in 1949 introduced a bill to put all free enterprise under a political thumb is chairman of the House banking committee. As such, Representative Spence gets due credit for his committee's closely-split decision to remove the Capehart amendment from the economic stabilization act.

This is the amendment which bars Socialists in the Truman Administration from cutting the throat of free enterprise with price-control edicts which do not allow for increases in costs of labor, materials and transportation after the beginning of the war in Korea. The House banking committee, taking its lead from Senate modifications of the Capehart amendment, recommends that it be scuttled, in effect, by barring businessmen from making appeals except in cases of "financial hardship."

In the gobbldygook of socialism, there is no such thing as "financial hardship" for an employer, since the whole idea of the Socialists is to drive all employers out of business preparatory to replacing them with politicians. Representative Spence has earned his varsity "S" for socialism in our time.

Memo for Nov. 1

BETWEEN now and Nov. 1 when higher income and excise taxes go into effect, the price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics will continue to move upward, in all probability.

Each fraction of increase will wipe out all the increase from the higher taxes. The higher taxes which will be collected after Nov. 1 will add no more to the buying power of the government which spends the revenue produced by taxes than is added to the buying power of individuals by inflated money.

The same amount of government service which costs a million dollars 20 years ago now costs approximately twice that much. The increase in the cost of government is the result not only of governmental expansion but of the progressive cheapening of money.

It is reasonable to assume that long before the end of the financial year next June 30 every additional cent collected in taxes by the federal government will have been offset by rising prices. There will be no net residue available for national defense.

The nation is running faster and faster to try to keep from going backward in the matter of public income from taxation as well as in the matter of private income from productive enterprise.

Enlightening Books

By David Lawrence

Interesting Disclosures About Washington Politics

WASHINGTON

THE American people have been the victims of so much suppression of inside news by the Administration in power, which has the right to deny confidential data to investigating committees of Congress, that the disclosures in books of memoirs have often furnished the missing link in information to which the public is entitled.

Two books — the diaries of James Forrestal and now the memoirs of Jesse H. Jones, former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation — reveal news somewhat different from the expressions high-mindedness which are to be found in the official propaganda of public statements and speeches.

LAWRENCE

For both Mr. Forrestal and Mr. Jones now confirm what the American people have long suspected but upon which they have had little first-hand knowledge — namely, that politics is played by Presidents of the United States with the most serious matters of public policy. Thus, in the diaries just published by the Viking Press, Mr. Forrestal wrote in July 1948:

"He (President Truman) told me that he would make a negative decision on the question of the transfer of custody of atomic bombs and said that political considerations, at the immediate moment, had influenced this decision. He indicated that after election it would be possible to take another look at the picture."

* * *

THE AMERICAN people will be amazed to learn that on such a subject as the custody of the atomic bomb—whether it should be in the military or in the civilian side—the decision should be influenced not by the merits of the problem itself but by what is good or bad from the standpoint of the President's own political fortunes.

Much more extreme is the statement of Jesse H. Jones, who made an enviable record in the RFC, not only because he handled the affairs of that institution without political influence but because he insisted that any order he got from the President in managing the affairs of the RFC should be in writing.

Mr. Jones, in his book entitled "Fifty Billion" Dollars," just published by the MacMillan Company, says the late President Roosevelt tried to get the RFC to buy the Empire State building at what Mr. Jones thought was an inflated price. Mr. Roosevelt's purpose was to bail out Al Smith and other Democrat personages who were at that time involved in the tangled affairs of a real estate venture which in recent years has happily turned out well but which at that time was a worry to the backers. It is not clear whether Mr. Roosevelt wanted to help the Democratic leaders because of party reasons or to get a leverage on them so that they would be less hostile to him politically. At any rate, Mr. Jones in his book calls Mr. Roosevelt a "total politician" and goes so far as to say that, "regardless of his oft repeated statement 'I hate war,' he (Mr. Roosevelt) was eager to get into the fighting since that would insure a third term . . . . He changed his tactics whenever politics seemed to dictate, and with no intention of leaving the White House until voted out—or carried out."

* * *

MR. JONES' DRAMATIC comments are in line with what several of the leaders of the so-called "isolationist" group have always claimed were the motivating reasons for American involvement in World War II. The revelations will be disappointing to all those persons, including this correspondent, who have heretofore defended Mr. Roosevelt's policies in 1940 and 1941 and who have insisted that Mr. Roosevelt's political ambitions were merely coincident with a situation developing in the world that was beyond his control. There's no doubt, however, that Mr. Jones' comments will weigh considerably with the group who have argued, as Mr. Jones does now, that "in the beginning his (Mr. Roosevelt's) purposes were undoubtedly high; but as the years went by and the mill seemed to require a new kind of grist to keep him in the driver's seat he never hesitated to provide it."

The two books show how little the public knows of what goes on behind the scenes, and how little the people can learn from reading the slick propoganda issued by slick puolic officials, whose publicity men and ghost writers manage to envelop official acts and statements in an atmosphere of piety and righteousness, while the truth is that the meritricious ways of politics are the invisible influences that too often shape public policy and the destiny of a nation.

Things That Grow

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE stone wall which was undertaken last winter in a mood of optimism was abandoned, after a few sessions, in a mood of despair. It took only a few sessions to reveal that one lifetime would be too short to finish it, because it had to go 300 feet to get where it was going.

This summer, another wall-building project was begun, on a small scale. This wall was not going anywhere at all, therefore could stop at any time or at any place. It had no purpose, other than to be looked at and perhaps to avert the formation of a snow drift in the driveway, if it ever attained sufficient height.

But there is more to building even a suggestion of a stone wall than is likely to meet the eye or come to the mind—and if this repeats what was written last winter about that other wall, the truth will bear repetition. Because the truth is, in this regard, that some things cannot be built. They must grow.

They are like morality, love and a sense of tradition. They are like loyalty, confidence and the wisdom which comes to thoughtful minds after half a century of observing the consequences of folly. They are like the color of old lace, the majesty of ancient twisted oaks and an appreciation of history.

The stone walls in New England were not built by any one generation, nor did they grow in the span of one generation. They represented lifetimes of patient toil in the clearing of rocky soil, necessitating the piece-by-piece removal of that inhospitable area's only natural crop—stones.

And just to keep this comment headed in the right direction, the progeny of the hard workers who started to pile up the stones which eventually formed walls now are hauling them away in trucks and leveling them with bulldozers.

In this country, nearly everybody either is in a terrible hurry or doesn't give a whoop. There is a perpetual shortage of people with enough patience to buckle down for the long pull—people willing to start something they cannot finish.

Along with this impatience about the future goes impatience about the past. Americans are everlastingly ripping up and tearing down what is to make way for something they probably won't finish. And to cap the irony, the antique dealers and the restorationists then come along, put together the neglected pieces of what was destroyed and sell them back to the destroyers for a handsome profit.

The small-scale stone wall begun this summer finally has accumulated enough stones to hold itself erect. But there still are places where daylight shows through. And the thing will not bear sitting on for a long time to come—probably not until the last quarter of the twentieth century when hundreds and thousands of stones will have been added, each supporting the other and all of them together supporting the thesis that some things cannot be made but must be given time to grow. Among them, besides stone walls, is the brotherhood of man.

Kicking a Crippled Lion

A View of the G.O.P. Picture

By George E. Sokolsky

1. Robert A. Taft is an open candidate who is corralling delegates:

2. General Eisenhower has not yet declared himself a candidate, which nobody else can do for him. Nor has he publicly and formally declared himself to be an adherent of the Republican party;

3. Governor Warren, of California, is clearly not a party to any measure to support or oppose any other candidate but could be and is likely to be a candidate in his own right:

4. Harold Stassen is no longer to be regarded as without personal aspirations:

5. Tom Dewey remains totally out of the picture:

6. Paul Hoffman, dispenser of ECA and Ford money, is a comer-upper who is emerging into the storm with prayerful longings that the lightening might strike.

This makes for an extremely interesting situation. General Eisenhower's friends feel sincerely that only he can defeat Harry Truman: his opponents are equally sure that he would be an easy target for Truman because of his affiliations with the Truman Administration. This much is certain; unless Eisenhower gets into the campaign by the beginning of 1952, he will be out of the picture altogether. Politicians can not wait for him. They are in the business of making and accepting commitments.

SOKOLSKY

It is the organization politician who produces the delegates to the conventions. Such stalwart Republicans as Marquis Childs or Doris Fleeson will not send a single delegate to the Republican convention nor will many of the businessmen who so ardently support General Eisenhower. Too many of them have been too lazy and too lackadaisical to make sure that they could vote in the primaries.

* * *

THIS, THEN, is a politician's problem in the first place, as the convention which nominates a candidate is in reality a private meeting of registered partisans. They may not be the best or the smartest people in the world and not, by half, as knowledgable as you or I. But they have the votes in the convention, which is what counts.

Therefore, if General Eisenhower wants the Presidency enough, he must go after it himself. In the traditions of this country, the Presidency is a good enough job for a man to be willing to fight to get it. Those who have advised General Eisenhower to adopt the attitude that he would prefer to be drafted were not politically keen because that can be used against him as violating the concept that the office is bigger than the man.

* * *

AS FOR Robert A. Taft, these purely political factors stand in his favor:

1. He has become the symbol of the Republican party. While Mr. Dewey likes to be regarded as the titular head of his party, no on in it takes that seriously. His influence on the party, on its members in the Senate of the House, is small. His greatest strength is his hold on the New York State delegation, which is a valuable asset. His opposition to Taft, however, is resented because it is personal not partisan:

2. Taft's success in Ohio offsets the argument that he can not be elected, which no one can even estimate with any degree of accuracy until the votes are in. The arguments on both sides of this question seem futile and inconclusive:

3. The fact that the Truman people conduct a propaganda that Truman would prefer Taft as a candidate, obviously aids Taft. Such a propaganda, based on ridicule, gives the opposite impression from that intended. Furthermore, the fact that all New Deal columnists and all the old Willkie crowd oppose Taft strengthens his position with Republican politicians. It is almost axiomatic that any candidate who has the support of Henry Luce of Life-Time-Fortune will be opposed by active Republicans because Luce is usually blamed for Willkie. He is politically regarded as hard luck. His opposition to Taft has aided Taft considerably within the Republican party:

* * *

4. FINALLY, registered, work-Republicans want a Republican for President this time. They would go for such men as Taft,

WASHINGTON

ALLYN WALTERS, who has proclaimed for many years the benefits electricity has brought to farm and home, is building a dream house completely wired to please Mrs. Walters.

Chief of public relations for the Rural Electrification Administration, Mr. Walters is building his home in Sarasota County, Fla.

No part of the house will be more than five feet from an outlet, and most of the lighting will be from movable side lights. The house will have such electrical devices as a dish-washer, garbage disposal unit, automatic washer and dryer, water heater, and electric heaters in the two bedrooms. The remainder of the house will be heated from the fireplace, which has electric fans to circulate the warm air.

Mr. Walters says that with electricity the farm woman works and lives much as does her city cousin. He says he went to an Iowa farm where a housewife proved to him her electric range and washer were really production tools because the time she saved provided for a greatly increased flock of chickens.

"And I didn't believe it until I saw it, but a radio in the barn resulted in an increase in the supply of milk," he added. "The family's boy and girl didn't mind sticking to their chore when they could still hear their favorite program, 'Jack Armstrong, All-American Boy', which came on at milking time. And the cows didn't mind the radio."

The REA program, Mr. Walters says, also has created a need for women leaders. "In many cases women have served as directors in the co-operatives. Some women have been managing them. One $5 million co-operative had a woman president," he said.

"Women also serve on state committees and take an active part in such problems as whether to build a new generator plant or whether to extend a line over the mountain. The average co-operative is a $2 million concern, so women, you might say, are participating in running multi-million dollar corporations."

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A resolution to submit the question of advancement of the village of Marion to a city of the second class to a vote of the corporation electors was passed by the village council on Feb. 3, 1890. At a special election 1,024 persons favored the move and 438 were against it. The resolution passed the council on June 2, 1890. Members of council voting for the resolution were James G. Fairbanks, Amos H. Kling, F. E. Blake, F. R. Salter, Fred Issleib, C. W. Leffler and M. H. Porch. Thomas R. Roberts cast the one dissenting vote.

"The Little Men"

In the post mortems of the world series (was it only a week ago?) baseball fame observed a note of scorn in some quarters toward "the little men," an expression used by quite a few sports writers to denote the forces appealed to through symbols of faith. All through the series much was made of medals on the desk of Leo Durocher, with considerable emphasis on the medal of Saint Christopher, patron saint of all who are on hazardous trips. With the Giants vanquished, there was a tendency to belittle such things. Well, the cynicism doesn't stand up, boys. In the official score "the little men" rate a big place in the "assist" columns. And the saint who lends a helping hand to imperiled travelers did wonders in record time for the Giants on that hazardous journey from mid-August to the flag. If "Lippy" and his men didn't have more than their own resources on that hectic ride, nobody ever did.

PHILLIPS

It will always be the belief of those who have a warm spot for symbols of faith that "the little men" were giving plenty to the Giants in the playoff with "Dem Bums." We were there when Bobby Thomson hit that last-minute homer, right out of the story books, but we didn't see Bobby. We saw a strange figure, uncommon to such hectic scenes, heard a rustle of wings and distinctly saw a white feather fall, as in the new movie "Angels in the Outfield." It is our belief that the Giants, entirely on their own, would not have given the Dodgers much trouble.

(Didn't the Dodgers have any medals? Certainly. But "the little men" are sentimental. They think it is a good thing, now and then, to get behind the underdogs, the trailers and the fighters in lost causes. And what a forlorn beaten bunch Dem Bums looked like until the stretch run!) Without "the little men" in the series against the Yanks, the Giants wouldn't have won a game, say we. The Yanks are almost a sure thing, through tradition and experience. Didn't "the little men" almost tie it up for the Giants in that last hectic inning of the final game?

* * *

Whoosh, man, you can't expect too much of "the little men." They seldom go so far as to make the picture ridiculous. They can't take the position that a pretty good team can always beat a very fine team. They don't want to look like more Hollywood script writers. So there are limits. But they were in there plenty for the Giants most of the journey. After all, Casey Stengel and the Yanks believe in the unseen, too. And don't let anybody tell you otherwise! Probably what drew "the little men" toward the Giants was the fact that they were flabbergasted and intrigued by the sight of Leo Durocher, formerly the tough guy and bad boy of baseball, casting off the cloak of truculence and personal vanity, and openly showing a regard for treasured symbols. "The little Men" did a complete remodeling job on Leo which was a major miracle in itself.

* * *

The former terror of the league guarded the medals, especially the St. Christopher, with care and they passed a miracle in what they did with him. He never swung a punch, browbeat an ump or staged a rhubarb. Had Billy the Kid been transformed into the White Prince it would have been no more astounding. "They bundled up the medals, charms and amulets," wrote one writer, "and tossed them into the Harlem. The Yanks don't believe in miracles." Sez you! Not believe in miracles? Bub, there wasn't an inning in which the Yanks were really scared of anything else.

Public School Employes To Meet Here

Central District Event Set Oct. 26 At Edison Junior High

The annual meeting of the Central District, Ohio Association of Public School Employes, this year will be held in Marion.

The fifth annual affair for all non-teaching school employes, including custodians, firemen, maintenance men, bus drivers, cafeteria workers, school secretaries and business managers, is scheduled Friday, Oct. 26, at Edison Junior High School.

Herman E. Powelson, a custodian in the Marion public schools, is president of the Central District.

More than 300 persons are expected to be present for the one-day meeting, representing the 12 counties in the district. The counties include, in addition to Marion, Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Madison, Morrow, Pickaway, Ross and Union.

The purpose of the Association of Public School Employees is to promote the interests of public education, to advance the standards of the non-teaching personnel, and to help secure the conditions necessary to the greatest efficiency of non-teaching school employes and the schools, Mr. Powelson said.

Principal Speaker

Principal speaker for the meeting will be Paul E. Hensel, personnel director for the Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind. Addressing the group at the morning session, he will speak on the subject, "It Makes a Difference." Mr. Hensel will tell how people raised in a free country, nourished mentally by free schools and a free press, gainfully employed in free enterprises and strengthened morally by the religion of their choosing, are better able to develop the country in which they live.

Mr. Hensel has a background of athletic coaching at the University of Michigan and for the past five years has been the chief administrator of the Central Soya Company's personnel program. The McMillen Feed Mills in Marion is a subsidiary of that company.

Registration for the day's meeting is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m., with the opening session beginning at 9:30 in the school auditorium. The invocation will be spoken by Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, and a welcome will be extended by J. Douglas Torrance, president of the Marion Board of Education, after which Mr. Hensel will speak.

Departmental Meetings

Departmental meetings also will be held during the morning, beginning at 11 o'clock. Conducting the various group discussions will be the following: Guy Kent of the Hillyard Co. of Mansfield, who will speak to custodians and maintenance men on floor maintenance, in the auditorium; Miss Mary K. Miley, secretary to Lester L. Dickey, Marion city schools superintendent, speaking to secretaries, in the home economics department; Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, home economist with the Ohio Edison Co., who will conduct the session for cafeteria workers in the library; and Cpl. Tom Morgan of the Marion Substation of the Ohio State Highway Patrol, who will speak to bus drivers.

Following luncheon at 12:30, the members will again assemble in the school auditorium at 2 p.m. to hear a talk by John Ganoe of the Marion city fire department, who also will give a demonstration on turning in a fire alarm.

A business session scheduled to begin at 2:20 p.m. will conclude the day's meeting. Mr. Powelson will preside for the meeting which will include reports of committees, presenting of resolutions, nominations and election of officers.

Officers of the district, besides Mr. Powelson, are Ed A. James of the Columbus city schools, vice president, Miss Eileen Blauser of the Lancaster city schools, secretary, Miss Mary Schultz of the Lancaster city schools, treasurer, B. C. Kumblauch of the Columbus city schools, past president, and H. J. Salmer of the Columbus city schools, council administration.

Teachers Meet In Columbus

The same day, the Central Ohio Teachers Association, of which teachers in Marion and Marion County schools are members, will hold its annual meeting in Columbus. Schools throughout the district will be discussed that day. E. E. Banning, superintendent of Pleasant Township School, is president of the Teachers Association.

Killinger Must Die

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(AP)—Gerald Killinger, 18, convicted of committing murder for a friend, must die in the electric chair Nov. 16—unless he is granted executive clemency.

The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday refused to hear his appeal.

Killinger was convicted of killing Harold Mast, 23, of Medina on Oct 15, 1950. The prosecution said Killinger killed Mast so that Killinger's friend, Max Amerman, 27, could woo Mast's wife, Randi, a 24-year-old Norwegian war bride.

Amerman was convicted of plotting the murder with Killinger and also sentenced to death.

The Supreme Court's refusal to hear Killinger's appeal also seemed to seal Amerman's fate. Gov. Frank J. Lausche had stayed Amerman's electrocution while Killinger's case remained in the courts.

Amerman's stay of execution expires Nov. 15.

Bucyrus To Change Garbage Disposal

BUCYRUS—Safety-Service Director A. L. Winter was instructed by city council at its meeting Tuesday to obtain information concerning the cost of erection of an incinerator for disposal of the city's daily collection of garbage.

The city's present practice of dumping garbage on the open ground at the city disposal farm has been condemned by the Bucyrus Service Club council.

City Treasurer Glenn Senseney informed council that revenue from parking meters during September amounted to $1,655.

Marion Garden Center Notes

DAFFODILS

Daffodils should be in the ground in August or September. Best results are obtained by preparing the soil deeply. The daffodil will develop roots which go 12 inches into the soil. A light sandy loam soil with plenty of humus added is best. Incorporate peat moss, compost, or other humus in the soil and liberal sprinkling of bonemeal. Manure may be used if it is well rotted.

A depth of six inches is satisfactory for the bulb planting. Four to six inches apart is a good rule. If the soil is dry after planting soak it good with water. This will induce the bulb to make its necessary root growth before the ground is frozen. It is well to mulch your planting when the ground is frozen. Use leaves or straw. Remove the mulch about a month before the flowering date.

Daffodils are best planted in drifts. Their beauty is best adapted to naturalized plantings rather than formal arrangements Most growers agree that plantings are more attractive when each separate variety is planted in its own colony. A few of the best varieties for naturalizing are King Alfred, Mrs. E. H. Krelage, Carlton, Scarlet Elegance, and John Evelyn.

Senate Group Eyes Gambling In Mississippi

Biloxi Area, Location Of Big Air Base, Still Wide Open

BILOXI, Miss, Oct. 18—(AP)—The carefree Mississippi Gold Coast privided the springboard today for a new round of Senate committee investigations into gambling conditions.

Untouched by the light of publicity of the Kefauver committee, slot machines and swanky gambling casinos around this tourist and convention center are being given the spotlight now because of their relation to Keesler Air Force Base

Keesler's 30 000 airmen and the base's $48,000,000 annual payroll are one of the principal economic supports of the city. The base's population almost equals that of Biloxi itself.

A militant Baptist minister leading an anti-gambling drive claims more than $6,000,000 of this payroll is siphoned off by the slots and other gambling.

For three weeks investigators experienced in Kefauver committee work have been here quietly preparing a case for a new probing committee.

When the spadework is complete the Senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by Sen Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) is expected to step into the picture

No official word on the investigation has come from Johnson's committee in Washington, but an announcement is expected momentarily

The Mississippi Coast has never tried to conceal its gambling. Mayor R. Hart Chinn said in an interview slot machines operated before Keesler Field was established and as far back as he could remember.

Wide-open gambling adherents contend the convention crowds and vacationers pay the freight, pouring their money into the slots and rolling their chips on the green baize table at the night clubs.

Republican Legislator Finds Something Right in Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 —(AP) —A Republican congressman reported with some wonderment today that he's found something to approve in the Truman administration.

"In the midst of all the confusion that is official Washington," said Rep. Oakley Hunter of California, "it is refreshing to note that a number of signs have appeared on the desks of minor bureaucrats, by which they slyly poke fun at themselves."

For instance, a sign at the National Production Authority:

"It takes a real bureaucrat to develop chaos out of confusion."

And another at the Veterans Administration:

'Why be difficult when with a little effort you can be impossible'"

Hunter, a six-foot-four ex-FBI agent, reported this development in a news letter to the folks back home, and enlarged on it for a reporter.

Personally, he said, he thinks a little sloganeering is a fine thing.

"Every room in the Pentagon ought to have Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's warning in large letters on the wall: 'The problem in defense is how far you can go without destroying from within what you are trying to defend from without'"

And, speaking as a staunch Republican Hunter said he'd like the Democrats to keep their eyes focussed on a sign bearing the words of their own Woodrow Wilson.

'The history of liberty is the history of limitation of governmental power, not the increase of it'"

Had Hunter any special sign to suggest for the walls of first-term congressmen like himself?

Dance Club Plans Halloween Masquerade

27 Youths To Exhibit Steers Friday

Junior Show And Sale To Be Held At Stock Yards

A total of 27 Marion area youths are scheduled to show their cattle in the Marion County Junior Steer Show and Sale Friday. Eight others plan to offer steers for sale but will not enter the judging contests.

The show will be judged by James H. Warner, beef cattle specialist of the extension service of Ohio State University.

He will place all steers in breed classes and select the grand champions and reserve champions of the show.

Show Begins At 1

The judging is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. Friday at the Marion Producers Livestock Cooperative yards on West Center street.

The Kroger Company will award a trophy to the grand champion steer while Carroll's Jewelry store will award a trophy to the winner of the showmanship contest.

James Smoot, manager of the Marion Producers Livestock Cooperative, will supervise weighing the steers and conduct the sale in the evening.

Afternoon activities will be led by Earl Augenstein, Donald Duprey, and Wallace Linn, the show committee.

Auctioneers for the evening sale will be Forest Day and Dave Walters. Clifford Campbell will be sale clerk. The sale is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. following the awarding of the trophies. Anyone will be permitted to purchase steers at the sale.

Steers must be taken to the yards before 10 a. m. Friday to be weighed and classified for the show and sale.

Aberdeen-Angus

Judy Ann Coon of Meeker 4-H Club, Merl Coon of Meeker 4-H, Edwin L. Harsh of Radnor F.F.A., Marilyn Hert of Cardington 4-H, Dwayne Jones of Cardington 4-H, Carl Murphy of Meeker F.F.A., Lowell Murphy of Meeker F.F.A., Clyde Sappington of Meeker 4-H, Rachel Sappington of Meeker 4-H, Wayne Seiter of Prospect 4-H, Max Strine of Claridon 4-H, Dick Van Meter of Meeker 4-H, Robert Wood of Meeker F.F.A.

Shorthorn

Hereford

Dallas Campbell of Morral F.F.A., John F. Cooper of Mt. Zion 4-H, Wanda Jones of Cardington 4-H, Richard Kaelber of Waldo 4-H, Deverre Knickel of Radnor 4-H, Lowell Miller of Radnor F.F.A., Howard Seckel of Claridon 4-H, Kenneth Smith of Prospect F.F.A., Larry Sullivan of Mt. Victory, Robert Sullivan of Mt. Victory.

Those offering cattle for sale but not entering the judging contests are as folows: David Baxter, Jimmie Baxter, Wayne Watkins, Ramon Hetzner, Bryan Baxter, and Jerry Davis of the Radnor F.F.A., and Max Strine of the Claridon 4-H Club.

PRISONERS LOCKED IN YARD. Prisoners huddle together or walk back and forth in an effort to keep warm at Moundsville, W. Va. Their clothes are soaking wet from a heavy dew and a chilly fog. Thirteen hundred prisoners refused to go back to their cells Tuesday and in a counter move officials locked them out over night. Abuse, bad food, and unsanitary conditions were the reasons given for the rebellion.

FINDS BALLOON

MARYSVILLE—James Brunskill, 33, of near Milford Center discovered a radio device in a clear plastic case attached to a parachute which, in turn, was attached to an 18-inch diameter balloon dangling from utility wires along a country road near his home. He notified air force officials at Dayton.

Chicago's "Loop" district is named after the circle its elevated tracks make in the downtown area.

Smoot Named Livestock Market Head

Appointed Marion Manager By Producers Assoc.

James R. Smoot is the new manager of the Marion market of Producers Livestock Cooperative Association, succeeding Robert Bradley, who resigned to specialize in the procurement and sale of cattle at the association's Findlay market. Both Mr. Smoot and Mr. Bradley are now on duty at their new posts.

Mr. Smoot has been with Producers since December 1947. He was manager at the market in East Toledo, O., from the time he joined the organization until July 1950, when he was brought into the central office at Columbus to serve in the cattle department. While with the central office, he devoted several months to coordinating into the Producers system the market at Vincennes, Ind., the latest to join the organization.

Prior to coming with Producers, Mr. Smoot served for 12 years as county agricultural agent in Hocking County. He became one of the best-known county agents in Ohio. He especially emphasized the importance of livestock to the area he served.

A summary of livestock receipts at the Marion Producers for the first nine months of 1951 shows a total of 104,731 head of livestock sold, a gain of 16,083 over the corresponding period of 1950. This is one of the largest increases for any of the 18 Producers markets. September volume totaled 14,570 head, a sharp gain of 5,263 head over September a year ago.

Manager Smoot reports that the new Friday sheep and lamb sales begun at Marion the first Friday in October, are being well patronized with very satisfactory results for both farmers and buyers. These auctions will be held every Friday until March 1 in order to relieve congestion at the stockyards on Monday when all species of livestock are sold at auction.

HELD FOR DAMAGE

MARYSVILLE — Three boys from nearby Richwood have been placed on probation to Marshal Charles Davis of that community by Juvenile Judge John W. Dailey of Union County after a hearing in court here on charges of pre-Halloween damage involving damage to flower boxes in Richwood.

New Market Located On Jefferson St.

Formal Opening Scheduled Friday, Saturday, Sunday

Formal opening of the new Jefferson street market will be held tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. It is located at 450 Jefferson street. In yesterday's edition of The Star, it was incorrectly listed as the Patterson street market at 450 Patterson street.

The self-service grocery is operated by Norman Richendollar of 450 Jefferson street. He has operated the business for the last six months at 482 Jefferson street. It is now housed in a new cement block building.

London had subway trains as early as 1853.

GALION BIRTH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

IT won't be a cold war for the Sovietized Chinese troops in Korea this onrushing winter. They'll be warm—snug in uniforms, socks and other garments sewn of cloth supplied them by the Japanese, because a coalition of Tokyo businessmen and unions want to do business as usual with Red China.

Furthermore, most of these Nipponese textiles will be spun from raw American cotton bought from areas of our country which also contribute their share of dead, maimed and missing GIs.

Victor Riesel

I have before me a copy of a memorandum from Tokyo's International Trade and Industry Ministry to all Japanese business men, officially approving trade with our enemy. These businessmen, backed by politically powerful Nipponese unions eager to keep their people at work, may now send Red China as much chemical textiles as the Peiping government can pay for in American dollars.

At the same time, the Japanese can ship as much cotton thread, cotton cloth, staple fiber thread, staple fiber cloth, staple fiber cotton, rayon thread and rayon textiles as the Chinese can barter for with coal, salt, talc and other materials.

These "other materials" are the raw stuff which Japanese merchants want for low cost production — so they can compete with industries in high wage lands across the world.

Very clever businessmen, the Japanese.

HERE ARE THE ACTUAL remarks of one of their Nipponese radio commentators who plugged for "business-as-usual" with Mao Tse-tung's government—Kobashi, by name. He got on the air in Tokyo on Sept. 21, the day the Japanese government restrictions on Red trade were lifted, and broadcast to his listeners that:

"Some persons in the Secretariat of the Ministry of International Trade and Industry consider that on this occasion restrictions on trade with Communist China should be relaxed somewhat, because Communist China wants to buy Japanese textile goods. Japan expects much from the raw materials of Communist China."

He then sourly explained that, of course, there'd be complications because cotton thread and cloth are considered strategic war materials—and that much of the textiles sent to Red China will be made from American raw cotton.

Tons of this raw stuff are pouring into Japan—bought up from American brokers who have had no reason not to sell to a nation with which we made peace with such fanfare.

Restrictions on American sale of this raw U. S. cotton to foreign buyers were lifted by our Commerce Dept. on Sept. 17. Eleven days later the Department added that "soft and hard cotton waste and used cotton now may (also) be exported to most countries under general license without prior application to the Office of International Trade."

* * *

HOWEVER, Secretary Sawyer's experts did add that these shipments to the U.S.S.R. and its satellites and to Hong Kong and Macao (Portuguese) will continue to be restricted and require export licenses."

Now, here is what happened immediately in Japan. On Sept. 17, the American Supreme Headquarters, which receives its advice on these non-military matters from the other branches of our government, dispatched a memorandum to the Japanese Trade Ministry saying that it will no longer be necessary for the Japanese government to get permission from the Supreme military commander for the export of seven types of textiles to Communist China.

Well, four days later, on Sept. 21, the Japanese government also approved this trade with Red China—the first of many such moves, it can be predicted.

Of course, the Jap officials restricted such items as cotton tire cord, parachute and balloon material, viscose rayon tire cord and cotton sail cloth. For which, thanks But what the Nipponese did immediately after that was armounce that exports to Hong Kong "will no longer require emergency item import permits of the Hong Kong government and buyers letters of guarantee as in the past."

* * *

WHICH MEANS the Japanese can ship what they want of this material to the gateway to South China. From there it is only a short end run by land or swift two hour sail by sea to the Red factories turning out the uniforms for the troops of our enemy.

I thought you'd like to know. Especially if you've just waved your GI goodby. Apparently it's a long, long trail from Heartbreak Ridge to Tokyo.

ROUTE OF THE ROYAL TOUR. Stopping places, including Washington, of the 10,000-mile royal tour of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip are located on the map above.

Supreme Court To Hear Lorain Journal's Appeal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Supreme Court yesterday agreed to consider the appeal of the Lorain, O., Journal in a government anti-trust suit charging the newspaper discriminated against advertisers who used a competing radio station.

The Journal appealed from a ruling by U. S. District Judge Emerich B. Freed of Cleveland. He said the newspaper may not deny advertising space to firms that also bought advertising time on Radio station WEOL in Lorain and Elyria, O.

The newspaper was represented before the Supreme Court yesterday by William E. Leahy, Washington attorney.

"The Journal's refusal was not an attempt to monopolize interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman Act. The Journal was not itself engaged in interstate commerce, hence it would not monopolize such commerce, particularly by local acts," Leahy said.

Solicitor General Perlman, who represented the government, contended the Journal "engaged in a deliberate course of coercive action designed to destroy the broadcasting company."

Perlman said the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) refused to permit the owners of the Journal to operate a radio station in the Lorain-Elyria area "because of the very same practices which are complained of in this case."

WESLEY CIRCLE MEETS

The Far and Near Circle of Wesley Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Miss Rosetta Clark of Wood street. Devotions were led by Mrs. Margaret Edington and prayer was conducted by Mrs. Beth Monk. Mrs. Mabel Snyder presided for the business session during which it was decided to take the Navajo Indian Mission school as a group project. Mrs. Janet Culp led the study book period. Contest winners were Miss Marie Johnson, Mrs. Maxine Arthur, Miss Vivian Brown and Mrs. Thelma Wilson. Mrs. Katie Hartshorn, president of the W.S.C.S., and Mrs. Edna Christ were guests. Mrs. Ida Habluetzel was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be held Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Isabel Gorenflo of South High street.

REVIVAL SCHEDULED

A two-week revival will open Sunday, Oct. 21, at the Bethlehem Church, two miles south of Richwood on Route 37, the pastor, Rev. John Heisman of Marion, has announced. Services will continue each night through Sunday, Nov. 4. Messages will be delivered by the pastor, and special music will be in charge of Mr and Mrs. Francis Penhorwood of Ashley.

M.C.Y.M. Plans First Fall Luncheon Friday

First of the fall luncheons for Marion high school students to launch the season for the Marion Christian Youth Movement will be held Friday at 11:45 a.m. at First Evangelical and Reformed Church. Women of the church will serve the meal. A Halloween theme will be used throughout.

Rev J. Paul Goebel, pastor of the church, will speak, and there will be entertainment by the young people of the various churches in M.C.Y.M. affiliation. Group singing will be a feature. Miss Florence Hayman is M.C. Y M. president.

On Talking To Yourself

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

PEOPLE who live all alone on an island usually end up by talking to themselves.

This is particularly true of Manhattan Island, one of the most crowded and lonely islands in the world. More people talk to themselves here than anywhere.

The human trait of self-address is a fascinating thing. It has always interested me. Everytime I see people talking to themselves, I mutter under my breath, "Why is he talking to hiself?" and then my brain asks me, "Why are you? You're doing the same thing yourself right now, you dope."

Hal Boyle

It is often appealing to watch the very young and the very old talking out loud only for their own ears. They do it for different reasons, however. The old folks do it because they have passed beyond the focus of the present; children do it because they haven't yet entered that focus.

What do they say to themselves? My observation has been that most oldtimers are quarreling with themselves in their monologues. I used to know a nice old lady back in Missouri who would march about her small chores saying crossly, "Now you know better than that. Why did you have to go and do a silly thing like that?" I never could find out what she thought she had done wrong. But she sure did give herself hell all day long.

* * *

WITH CHILDREN the whole thing is a game, a feat of the imagination to create an ideal world more understandable than the dismal grownup world that surrounds them. But when they talk to a doorknob and call it by a nickname, the doorknob is a very real person to them. Did you ever watch a small girl walk along and pet a row of flowers individually? They no longer are just flowers to her; they are pretty playmates. And she isn't just talking to herself. She hears what the flower-folk say back to her.

What startles me about New York, however, is the number of middleaged people who talk to themselves. You see their lips moving on the subways, on buses, in the streets. What are they saying? Sometimes they are belatedly rehearsing withering remarks they should have made to the taxidriver who almost ran them down on the way to work. Or they are talking back to their wives—safely. Or else they are talking out their worries to themselves, usually money worries.

THE MOST BORING type, however, is found at cocktail parties. These people talk out loud to themselves because of a secret conviction that is the only way to be sure of an intelligent audience. If you reply, they don't even hear you. Your role is to bounce back the echoes from their vocal chords into their own smug ears.

The most frightening self-conversationalists are those who are mentally disturbel — drunken bums, senile refugees from reality, younger people whose minds have erupted in chaos.

You see them walking alone in the crowds here, gibbering and gesturing to themselves. And no one bothers them here in the big city where nobody wants to get too involved in anybody else. Even the police pay no attention to them unless they become violent. What does happen to them.

I remember once seeing a trouble-haunted man mumbling to himself as he pushed through a throng near Rockefeller Center. Suddenly he wheeled, lifted his arms as if to sweep everyone in sight into the gutter and shouted:

"Get ready, sheep, get ready. You won't be here long."

Everyone who heard him turned eyes to the ground and walked on faster, feeling perhaps that the man who talked to himself had said something true of them all.

(The Associated Press)

Hank Wallace

By Inez Robb

WILD OAT FARM
FLEMINGTON, N. J.

MR BIB STANLEY, the dairy farmer from across the way, hunched his chair a little closer to the kitchen stove, stirred four spoonsful of sugar into his coffee and said:

"Wouldn't surprise me a bit if those politicians down in Washington don't elect Henry Wallace to the White House in '52."

"Why Mr. Stanley, you've been telling me for years you wouldn't vote for Wallace for dog-catcher!" I exclaimed.

Inez Robb

"Yep, you're right. I'm sitting here right now and eating my words. Mind, now, he isn't my candidate and I'm not campaigning for Hank. But those Washington politicians are making a national hero out of him.

"Well, my goodness, how do you figure that?" I wanted to know.

"Well, sir, one of those Congressional committees investigating communism in the wood pile sent for ol' Hank Wallace and I guess they figured to make a monkey out of him in jig time, what with Hank running with the leftists in '48.

"But down there on the witness stand, Hank just up and admits out loud in front of everyone that he made a mistake in '48. 'I made a mistake', that's just what Wallace said.

"The investigating congressmen, it said in the papers, just sat there staring at Wallace with their mouths open, like they were seeing a ghost. Because it was the first time in 20 years that any public figure in Washington has admitted that he ever made a mistake just like he was an ordinary human being.

"EVERYONE ELSE makes mistakes, but not politicians, at least not in the last 20, 25 years," Mr. Stanley continued. "It was about that time that the doctrine of infallibility began to spread in political life.

"Once a man gets himself elected to public office, he just automatically gets himself a load of infallibility. No matter how wrong-headed, assinine or pig-stubborn, if he is an elected officer he is right all the time. Now you and me, we make mistakes and admit it; but not a politician."

"It seems to me a lot of politicians have made mistakes in the last 15 or 20 years," I ventured.

"Oh, sure. To you and me and a million or so other taxpayers it sure seems that some of our duly elected officials have made some mistakes and most of 'em beauts! But will they admit it, even under oath?

"When a politician makes a mistake, it becomes foreign policy, or internal security or economic necessity or some other form of sacred cow and must be defended to the death. A politician is a feller who just can't say 'no' or make a mistake. They ain't human—politicians, that is."

"'To err is human,'" I began.

* * *

"BUT TO ADMIT IT is divine," finished Mr. Stanley, reaching for the coffee pot. "That's why I say Ol' Hank Wallace is in a fair way to becoming a popular national hero. Hank goes down to Washington and identifies himself with the human race by admitting he made a terrible mistake in '48.

"Hank doesn't wrap himself in infallibility. He just says he was mortal and made a mistake. A feller could run on the platform today and be elected. 'Honest confession is good for the soul' and the people in this country could be stampeded into voting for a man who admits he's mortal and makes mistakes, even as you and I."

"I'd hate to see Wallace ever again elected to public office," I protested.

"Yep, so would I," agreed Mr. Stanley. "But those politicians in Washington are sure building him up If Hank gets on the stand again and admits to a few more mistakes, he'll probably be nominated by acclamation. Mark my words, fallibility is a mighty appealing article."

In Atalanta, Ga., diaper service trucks are forbidden to have musical horn playing "Rock-a-Bye-Baby," according to The American Magazine.

Ask Revenue Agents About Incomes

Four Called To Explain Refusal To Give Details

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Four New York internal revenue agents were called before a congressional committee today to explain why they refused to answer questions about their income.

The internal revenue bureau said at least three other agents sought to resign rather than respond to a committee questionnaire, now being circulated by the treasury among some 27,000 bureau employes dealing with the public.

Chairman King (D-NY), of the House ways and means subcommittee, said some of the first tax agents selected for questioning have refused to supply information about their finances on "advice of counsel" or on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Poker-playing skill, or "infallible" systems for playing the horses, were among sources given by other agents for outside income of $3,000 to $4,000 a year, the committee stated.

Unidentified

The committee did not identify any of the agents by name.

"The unwillingness on the part of any employe of the bureau of internal revenue to reveal details of his personal financial affairs is inconsistent with the position of public trust he holds," King observed.

Rep. Kean (R-NJ)—a member of the investigating committee—asserted that any employe who refuses to talk "should be fired."

Repercussions spread, meanwhile, from committee revelations of alleged tax shakedowns, irregularities and allegations of corruption in the nation's tax collection service.

Developments included:

▶Indications that the King subcommittee would extend its investigation to go into charges of justice department interference in grand jury investigations of irregularities in the St. Louis and San Francisco tax collection offices.

▶A demand in the House by Rep. Curtis (R-Mo) for the resignation, or impeachment, of Attorney General McGrath for what Curtis called failure to prosecute "graft and corruption (which) stink up the federal government today."

▶An accusation by Rep. Bakewell (R-Mo) that the justice department "has been lax in prosecuting administration favorites." He stressed published statements that the department dragged its feet in the grand jury investigation resulting in the indictment of former St. Louis Tax Collector James P. Finnegan, a friend of President Truman.

▶A request by Reps. Hilling (R-Calif) and Keating (R-NY) for investigation of "all the charges which have been advanced in this matter" lest "public confidence in the federal judicial system may be irreparably damaged."

▶Announcement by the treasury department of the firing of Theodore Hurwitz, chief of customs appraisers in Detroit, for "misconduct." Hurwitz asserted he was the victim of "unfortunate circumstances." Details were withheld with the indication the case would be presented to a grand jury.

▶The assertion by Senator Williams (R-Del) that the internal revenue bureau had allowed a "notorious racketeer" to owe the government $2,230,000 in tax liabilities for more than three years without putting a lien on his property. Williams named the man as William Lias of Wheeling, W. Va., who he said had been referred to as a racket "dictator" in West Virginia and Southern Ohio.

Ike Ends 3-Day Trip With Fleet

NICE, France, Oct. 18—(AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower landed in France by helicopter today, ending his three-day trip with the U. S. Sixth Fleet on Mediterranean maneuvers.

Before leaving the big carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, Eisenhower said internal inspection of atomic and other armament industries "is the minimum thing we must demand" before world disarmament.

He told a press conference, that a strong peaceful west could live in peace with the eastern bloc.

Eisenhower's inspection of fleet maneuvers was hampered by a strong Mediterranean gale which cut down the fleet's program and prevented its scheduled show of bombardment power against an uninhabited Sardinian beach.

NEW UNIFORMS

Eight Marion Transit Co. bus drivers wore new uniforms on the job today, while the other nine drivers have ordered uniforms and are waiting for them to arrive. The drivers are purchasing the new grey uniforms and caps for themselves. They have had no official uniform until now.

Carlos Herdoiza Guest of U. S. in Year's Study

South American Railroader Learns About Diesels by Working in Erie's Marion Shops

The Erie Railroad diesel shops in Marion may someday be credited with helping the South American country, Ecuador, in a transition from steam to diesel railroading.

This help is being given at present by employes of the local shops to a young Ecuadorian native, Carlos Herdoiza, 28, a railroad employe of his native land. He is spending a year in Marion as the guest of the United States in an effort to learn all phases of diesel railroading.

Subject of Article

Mr. Herdioza was the subject of a three-page article in the October issue of The Erie, monthly publication of the Erie Railroad for its employes.

He is in this country to study Diesel locomotives and has been going to school in Marion since last February. The article published in The Erie follows in part:

Eagerness and awe are blended in Charlie's voice and face when he describes his impression of diesels and of the United States. (The Eriemen at Marion, who work with him call him Charlie He explains that Carlos is "Charles" in American.) Charlie had never seen an A or B diesel unit before he came to this country. He says there are only two diesels in all of Ecuador, both rather ancient switchers and he only saw these at a distance.

Summer Country

Ecuador is on the Pacific Ocean in northwest South America. The equador runs through the northern tip of the country, and Charlie says that Guayaquil, one of the nation's two large cities, always has a climate of 85 to 95 degrees. In the other large city, Quito, the capital, on the coast, the temperature is constantly between 35 and 65. Ecuador is an agricultural country with its principal products being bananas, coffee, balsa wood, sugar cane and panama hats. Charlie had never been out of his native land until he came to the United States in February.

Months after arriving he is still wide-eyed when he discusses this country. He says it's like a wonderland, and at times he still wonders if he's in a dream. Charlie flew to Miami, then to Washington, continued on to New York by rail and in February came to the Erie.

Like Magic

American railroading is a continuous source of magic and amazement to Charlie. He had read about it and seen movies, of course, but he declares that the big diesels are even more impressive when you actually see them than they were in the movies.

His full name, by the way, is Carlos Herdoiza Cattani. He explains that in his country children retain the name of their mother as well as their father. Therefore, his father's name which he retains in this country is Herdoiza and his mother's Cattani.

There are only four railroads in Ecuador, and Charlie is a fireman on the principal railroad, the Quito & Guayaquil, 290 miles long between the two cities. He expects to return to Ecuador about the beginning of 1952. At that time he will take a steam locomotive engineer's examination and will probably continue to work on steam. His diesel training here is preparation for the future. He believes his country will soon purchase a number of Diesel locomotives from the United States and then Charlie will be prepared to assume a role in Ecuador's diesel program. However, since his future plans have not been revealed as yet, it may be that he will enter an accelerated diesel program as soon as he returns.

Lots of Engine Work

His program at the Marion shops includes as much engine work as he can handle. Much of the time he helps the mechanics, while at other times he merely studies the experienced mechanics as they perform more complex duties.

His evenings are filled with study in his room in a private home. Most of the time when he is not working or sleeping, you can find him poring over textbooks and manuals.

During some weekends he spends a lot of his off-railroad hours at another favorite avocation—sight-seeing in Chicago Smiling happily he says he never tires of exploring the city. He especially likes the Museum of Art and the movies.

For a fellow who has only been in this country for a few months, Charlie has seen more of the U. S. than many of its natives. He spent some time in Washington, including two weeks at Wilson Teachers College. Charlie's visit here is part of the Department of Labor's foreign aid program, and his stay in Washington was planned by the Department which also selected the Erie, because of its emphasis on diesel motive poweer, for Charlie's further training.

Before coming to Marion, Apprentice Herdoiza also spent two weeks at the General Electric-American Locomotive diesel school in Schenectady, N. Y., and another two weeks at the General Motors Electro-Motive Diesel school in La Grange, Ill. Beside all that travel he has been in Columbus for the Ohio State Fair which he says was fascinating. That's really getting around for a young fellow who had never been out of Ecuador before this year.

—Erie Railroad Photographs

RAY STRAWSER, foreman of the diesel shop, inquires about the progress being made by Charlie in his on-job training.

There have been some rough spots, though. When he arrived in this country, Charlie could order a cup of coffee ony by "talking" with his hands and pointing. He had only a crude acquaintance with the English language. He did not know enough about reading, writing or talking English even to order a meal. For the first few weeks in the U. S. Charlie recalls that he lived on ham and eggs and spaghetti. He was unable to order anything else.

Charlie completed what is considered a high school education in Ecuador. He studied English fundamentals, but the course according to him was inadequate He was forced to start all over again here and has made amazing progress. He can easily carry on an everyday conversation with his Erie friends can read very well and pens a letter in English that most Americans could be proud of writing. He constantly carries a Spanish-English dictionary and has another in his room. They are well worn.

The Ecuadorian's "curriculum" on the Erie is supervised by R. C. Keenan, supervisor of apprentices. Mr. Keenan also represented the Erie at the Department of Labor when the government contacted the railroad concerning Charlie's training. Mr. Keenan plans to transfer Charlie to another part of the railroad this month to complete his education here.

Railroad Family

Charlie comes from a railroad family. His father has 42 years of service with the Q. & G. and now is chief of stations. His maternal grandfather was assistant to the builder of the railroad which operates through extremely mountainous country with grades as much as 5.5 percent. Charlies says that a 2-8-0 steam locomotive will handle only three cars over some of the grades.

One of Charlie's uncles is a conductor and engineer on the road, and another, still only 45, studied at the University of Michigan and for about nine years was manager of all the railroads in Ecuador while still in his 30s. Ecuador railroads are government owned.

Charlie hopes some day soon to add to this distinguished record established by his family. If enthusiasm, native ability and alertness help, Charlie has all the qualifications to add stature to his family's railroading standing.

Mr. Herdoiza makes his home at the Arthur Hornby residence at 126 John street.

Suez Canal

Abdel Rahman Shehawi, gave this account of the battle to Zein Nagati, an Associated Press newsman:

A British detachment of 90 infantrymen, with three small caliber field guns, moved up before dawn against his group of 24 men guarding the bridge. They opened fire before being challenged by Egyptian sentries and the battle continued until late in the morning, when the Egyptians surrendered

British officers said the Egyptians opened fire first, without warning, and the clash lasted only 15 minutes.

The Cairo newspaper Al Misri said the British have completely cut off the canal area from the rest of Egypt

British tanks and armored cars captured customs, telephone and railroad offices at Port Said and Suez at each end of the canal, it said.

An Egyptian army spokesman said the British at the El Ferdan bridge had seized all boats normally used for canal crossings and took the customs office at the eastern end of the bridge.

British possession of canal crossing facilities and other communications along the canal means that Egyptian army forces stationed east of the waterway are cut off from forces in the main part of Egypt.

In Cairo police declared a state of emergency—as they have several times in the past 10 days—and stationed strong reserve forces at strategic spots. The city was quiet.

KILLED AT MANSFIELD

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 18—(INS)—Howard Wyrick, 25, of near Lexington, was killed yesterday at the eastern edge of Mansfield when he lost control of his car on a curve and hit a steel truck. Wyrick, father of three small children, apparently was traveling at a high rate of speed and failed to see the curve at an underpass on U. S. 30.

NEWARK MAN KILLED

NEWARK, O., Oct. 18—(AP)—Joseph Messina, 61, of Newark, died one-half hour after his car and a truck driven by Cyril R. Thompson, 45, of Columbus collided today. The accident was 4½ miles south of Newark on route 79.

Small Warship To Be Displayed Here Tomorrow

A small Italian warship of a type credited with sinking thousands of tons of Allied shipping during World War II will be displayed in front of the courthouse tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., Chester Dye, commander of Geran-Thomas Post 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced today.

The display is mounted in a trailer van which will be parked beside the courthouse.

A ship of the type, a 21-foot-long electrically operated craft, sank the Valiant, one of the larger battleships in the British Navy, during the war.

No admission is charged to see the exhibit, but voluntary contributions will be accepted for the V.F.W. welfare fund, Mr. Dye said.

Hunt Gunmen In Elida Holdup

LIMA, O., Oct. 18—(INS)—Two masked gunmen are still at large today after robbing the Farmers Bank of Elida, seven miles west of Lima, of approximately $3,200 in cash.

The pair, who escaped in a car driven by a third man, entered the bank yesterday afternoon, flashed guns on the cashier and his assistant and scooped the money from the cashier's cage.

Donald Furry, 41, cashier, said there was approximately $16,000 in the bank vault, but he told the gunmen he could not open it because of a time lock.

Sheriff's deputies and state police threw up road blocks throughout the area in an effort to find the group.

HEARING POSTPONED

A hearing originally scheduled for today by the county commissioners on a petition for county roads in the Wheeler addition just east of the Marion city limits was postponed. Commissioners Carl Lehner and Ray Reidenbaugh were unable to be present and the meeting was postponed until next week.

troops advancing along a 22 mile front toward Kumsong were within three miles of the town.

South Korean troops on the east coast beat off two brief Red counterattacks south of Kosong with the help of the U. S. destroyer Waller.

The Navy reported the battleship New Jersey, flagship of the Seventh Fleet, killed more than 500 Reds Wednesday while supporting Allied troops. The battleship sent 150 tons of high explosives hurtling from its big guns against Red concentrations 18 miles inland.

A belated naval report told of a brief battle Tuesday between Red shore guns at the east coast port of Wonsan and besieging warships. Before the Red artillery was silenced, six large caliber salvos straddled the U. S. destroyer Stormes. The Navy made no mention of damage to the destroyer.

Twenty-two B-29 Superforts rained their big bomb loads on three Red air fields and two other North Korean targets Thursday, The Air Force said Red jets made no attempt to challenge them.

Report Truce Efforts Take Hopeful Turn

MUNSAN, KOREA, Oct. 18—(AP)—Efforts to revive Korean truce talks took a hopeful turn today after the United Nations command submitted a compromise security zone proposal.

Communist liaison officers took the suggestion under consideration overnight.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official spokesman for the U.N. command, expressed "cautious optimism."

"Tangible progress definitely was made" in Thursday's conference between Red and Allied liaison officers, Nuckols said. It was their eighth meeting at Panmunjom, a village in no-man's-land selected as the new site for armistice negotiations.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior U.N. liaison officer, took an "optimistic view of the situation."

Kinney said the liaison delegations Thursday reached "substantial agreement on one or two points which had been in dispute." But, he cautioned, "we still have several fundamental questions remaining."

Referring to some of these points, Col. Chang Chun San, heading the Red delegation, remarked, "I find very little difference between us."

(In Washington the State Department said Moscow recently turned aside an American proposal for joint U. S.-Russian action to bring about a truce in Korea.

Crash

gain altitude, crashing into the rocks at the 2,000-foot level.

A sheet of flame leaped up and a loud explosion was heard, that was all.

Mounties Reach Scene

Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrived at the scene several hours later and found six charred bodies strewn along the mountainside.

Kemano, where the flight originated, is the site of the Aluminum Company of Canada development in northern British Columbia. Nanaimo is 30 miles west of Vancouver, across Georgia Strait, and the plane apparently was off course on its regularly scheduled run.

The crew members were identified as Doug McQueen, the pilot, Jaginder S. Johl, first officer, and Ray Williams, crewman.

The airline withheld names of the passengers until relatives are notified.

Wildcat Dock Strike Spreads

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—((AP)—Wildcat dock strikers tightened their grip on New York City piers today, as rumblings of possible violence spread along the waterfronts here and on the West Coast.

Apparently beyond control of A.F.L. longshore leaders, the strike leap-frogged to more docks in Brooklyn, and virtually numbed the entire Hudson River waterfront on Manhattan's west side.

Vital defense and commercial shipping alike were severely crippled.

At Brooklyn's big port of embarkation, one of the nation's major shipping centers for military supplies and troops, nearly 1,000 stevedores gathered on the streets outside, but ignored "shapeup" whistles.

It was the fourth straight day of the union-opposed strike, sparked by unrest over a newly ratified contract.

Urge Farmers To Collect Scrap Metal

Marion County farmers are being urged to collect all scrap metal on farms to be turned in for defense use.

The appeal was issued through the Marion County Extension Service by a scrap committee composed of members of the Manufacturers' Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

The committee recently completed a canvass of local shops and plants for all scrap metal. It was collected and now is in the process of being converted to use, Harold J. Grigsby, committee chairman, reported.

Nearly all members of the Council are members of the committee.

The drive is being sponsored in answer to a nationwide appeal by the National Production Authority for scrap metal to boost the nation's steel supply.

Green

Give Support

Green said the American workers are supporting the mobilization effort. But he added:

"If this popular spirit and morale is to be maintained, none must be permitted to exploit the pressures of emergency for their own selfish purposes x x x or to profit from the sacrifices of their neighbors.

"x x x we have an act (price control) which lends the sanction of Congress to the ruthless profiteering and price goupging which has occurred since the outbreak of the war in Korea."

Green said it is the people who must bear the brunt of the conflict with Communism. Then he warned: "No amount of military might, economic strength or potential productive capacity could suffice to take us to victory if the people of this country x x x were to be made cynical, disillusioned and embittered at the trend of events.

Yesterday, the legionnaires cheered MacArthur's criticism of administration policies and his call for stronger military action to bring about a decision in the Korean war.

The general charged the administration with plunging the nation toward Socialism and bankruptcy at home while squandering money and manpower overseas.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(UP)—Stocks declined irregularly at the opening today in moderately active trading.

All divisions joined in the modest decline Investors generally held to the sidelines at the opening, pending further developments in the highly uncertain foreign situation.

Steel equities as a group were backward. Bethlehem Steel slipped ¼ to 55. Republic Steel declined ⅛ to 43⅝.

Elsewhere, chemical shares also moved downward. Dow Chemical at 110⅞ was off ⅜s. Other pivotals in this section eased.

Fractional declines were registered by Kennecott Corp., Northern Pacific, Western Union and Phelps Dodge.

Seek New Tax Compromise

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Administration leaders today hopefully cast about for a new compromise on a multi-billion dollar tax increase, the master key to quick adjournment of Congress.

Although surface indications of any agreement were lacking, the peacemakers seemed cautiously optimistic of working out a measure mutually acceptable to the Senate and to the Republican-northern Democrat combination that trounced the original $5,732,000,000 compromise tax bill in the House Tuesday

The conferees were called back into session today after an exploratory meeting yesterday which produced no tangible results.

Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts told the House after that meeting "it is hoped" that a new compromise will be ready by Friday. If that happens, and if prompt Senate and House approval are forthcoming, adjournment would still be possible on Saturday, as originally planned.

The arrival of a ship at Pitcairn Island is signaled by five strokes on a bronze bell.

O.S.U. Faculty Voices Protest On "Gag" Rule

Professors Meet, Will Study Screening Issue Further

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(AP)—About 200 Ohio State University faculty members voiced dissatisfaction with the university's speaker screening rule yesterday.

After a meeting of the Ohio State chapter of the American Association of University Professors, president Harvey Mansfield said "the group made it clear it was still very dissatisfied with the rules in effect."

The rule requires all invitations to prospective speakers on campus to be approved by university president Howard L Bevis.

Prof. Mansfield said no formal resolution was adopted, but he said the committee on academic freedom and tenure is studying the rule further and will report back to the chapter. The five-man committee is headed by S. M. Marco, professor of mechanical engineering.

Mansfield said Dr. Bevis spoke briefly at the meeting and there was "a cordial exchange of views and discussions."

He said the "air was considerably cleared" on many issues.

Dr Bevis said he told the group the trustees' order was never meant to cover non-political subjects. One professor said a national body might decide to meet elsewhere if 100 or so doctors had to be screened before they could present their papers in medical science.

Bevis said he told them that in such a case something could be worked out.

Mansfield said there was little discussion of the questionnaire screening rule, which requires all questionnaires prepared by university employes to be approved by Dr Bevis.

He said most of the faculty had learned of it only in the last day or two, and that there was "not much clarification" at the meeting.

Junior Circle of C.C.L. Endorses School Levy

Junior Circle of the Child Conservation League voted to endorse the four mill school levy when the group met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Shoemaker of 119 Johnson street.

Guest speaker was Miss Garnet Laird, religious instruction teacher in the Marion city schools. She chose for her topic "Religion in Public Schools."

The group will next meet Oct 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs Ronald Rish of Nevada for a Halloween party.

$750,000 WORTH. Showing off a $750,000 diamond necklace in Washington is Mrs Charles Black, the former Shirley Temple. The necklace, from the Harry Winston collection, will be exhibited at a Court of Jewels benefit for the Washington home for incurables.

Grange Unit Inspected

Annual inspection was held, with E. A. Williams, county deputy, in charge, at a recent meeting of Bethlehem Grange. Mrs Williams also was present for the evening's activities.

One application for reinstatement was voted on, the members responded to an appeal for aid, and Mrs. Robert Howald, home economics chairman, gave a review of home economics work and activities during the last year.

Highlighting the program was a pageant, "Spirit of the Grange," which included tableaus and vocal numbers. Mrs. Oscar Kaelber was reader, Mrs. Robert Dunlap was pianist, and Oscar Kaelber was violinist, while Miss Marie Bender was in charge of the tableaus. Vocalists included Mrs. Walter Rinehart, Mrs. Robert Briggs and Mrs John Laucher Jr. Others taking part were Mr and Mrs. Paul Fogle, Mr and Mrs. Harold Cox, Mr. and Mrs Charles McMahan, Mrs. Alfred Fogle, Mrs. Charles Ullmer and Misses Jane and Jean Fogle.

Also included in the program were an educational talk by Clyde Forrey on "Are We Weeds or Flowers?", an agricultural talk by Earl Augenstein, group singing, contests, and a short talk by Mrs. Ruby Williams, a member who now lives in Lorain.

A Halloween masquerade party will be held at the next meeting and prizes will be awarded. The masquerade part of the party will be from 8 to 9 o'clock and a wiener roast will follow the meeting with this simple Lemon Health Plan!

Build resistance to colds and infections

Are you protecting your family against the colds and infections that come with fall and winter weather? Here's one important thing you can do:

Use fresh lemons to make sure they get sufficient vitamin C. A deficiency of vitamin C saps the energy of either a child or an adult—makes him an easy target for infection. The body does not store vitamin C. Each member of your family must have a fresh supply every day.

WHERE TO GET VITAMIN C?

It is absent from most foods, scarce in most others' Fresh lemons, however, are one of the richest known sources of vitamin C.

You can prevent vitamin C deficiency by following this simple Lemon Health Plan: Just be sure you serve lemons in some of the ways shown at right—every day.

To start you on your Lemon Health Plan, dealers are cooperating in a giant Lemon Health Sale—on now at your market!

SCHAFFNER'S 85TH ANNIVERSARY

ANOTHER SENSATIONAL EVENT IN OUR 85TH... YES 85TH... ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION!

WHO HAS THE OLDEST PIECE OF FURNITURE ORIGINALLY BOUGHT FROM SCHAFFNER'S?

YOU MAY WIN $50 IN CASH!

WE OFFER A $50 CASH PRIZE TO DISPLAY IN OUR WINDOW FOR ONE WEEK! ADDITIONAL PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED TO THE NEXT TEN RUNNERS UP . . . BASED ON THE TIME YOU ORIGINALLY BOUGHT YOUR FURNITURE FROM SCHAFFNER'S!

FOLKS IN MARION have referred to the furniture we sell as "Schaffner's Dependable Furniture." Perhaps that is because much of the furniture bought during the early years of the store's existence is still in use today!

WE OFFER A CASH PRIZE OF $50.00 to the owner of the oldest piece of furniture found for the privilege of displaying it for a week in our window.

WE WILL CALL FOR IT, insure it and return it without charge. We offer additional prizes for the next ten oldest pieces.

ALL THAT IS NECESSARY is to have some facts which will establish the date purchased as nearly as possible. We would suggest that you ask grandparents particularly as they may know of some of these valuable old pieces of furniture. Ask them about the history of the pieces so that this interesting lore can be passed along to today's customers of Schaffner's!

NO DOUBT THERE ARE PIECES OF FURNITURE AROUND AS OLD AS THE STORE ITSELF! But don't hesitate even though the pieces you locate, or have in your very own possession, are a mere 50 or 60 years old . . . you may still have a winner! Remember there are eleven prizes in all!

SEND A LETTER OR POST CARD describing the piece you wish to enter with the facts concerning it . . . along with your name and address. It's as simple as that!

Duck Season

dition to regular hunting licenses These stamps may be acquired for $2 at any postoffice and also will be on sale at the checking station.

The bag limit for geese has been raised from four to five a day or in possession, The Associated Press reported. This will permit hunters to kill or possess one additional snow goose or one additional blue goose.

The bag limit and possession limit for coot is 10 each.

Geese Limits

The geese limits provide that no hunter may have more than two Canada geese or its subspecies, or two white-fronted geese, or one Canada goose or its subspecies and one white-fronted goose.

Before hunting ducks, geese or brant, anyone 16 years of age or over must have a federal migratory bird hunting stamp. They don't have to be worn where they may be seen, but they must be in your possession.

The Ohio Wildlife Division said the length of the season was extended by federal officials this year because waterfowl population surveys showed a substantial increase in the number of ducks and geese due to favorable breeding conditions last spring.

There is one significant change this year in waterfowl hunting regulations. This prohibits taking birds within one-half mile of any place where corn or similar feed has been placed or exposed during or within two weeks prior to the season's opening.

Purpose of Regulation

The purpose of the regulation is to overcome the continued effect of luring birds to a place even after the bait has been consumed. The standard prohibition against taking birds by use of corn or other feed remains in effect.

Hunters who want to use the state-owned MaGee marsh and East Harbor hunting preserves and don't already have permission are out of luck. Deadline for applications for shooting space in both areas has passed.

MaGee Marsh, located in Lucas and Ottawa counties, is one of the oldest and best known waterfowl hunting preserves in the nation. It will provide 12 blinds each day for two hunters until the last week of the season when 24 blinds will be used.

East Harbor in Ottawa County will provide six boat blinds for two hunters each.

On Pymatuning reservoir in Ashtabula County and for a one-quarter mile distance in any direction, a slightly earlier waterfowl hunting season prevails. Ducks, geese and coot may be taken in that area from October 12 to November 26.

Auto Agency

Danner Buick Co. For the past 10 years he has been sales manager with the Danner firm.

The new owner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMahon of 419 South Main street. He was graduated from Southeastern High School in Detroit before coming to Marion.

A veteran of World War II, he served with the U. S. Army in Europe for 18 months.

He is married to the former Miss Ruth Fox, daughter of R. R. Fox of 199 St. James street.

Mr. and Mrs. McMahon are the parents of two children.

FBI Arrests 22 In G.I. Bill Frauds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—The FBI today announced the arrest of 22 persons on charges of fraud against the government in connection with the G I. educational program.

Fourteen arrests were made in Miami, Fla., two in Detroit, one in Dayton, O., two in New York City and three in the Newark, N. J., area.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover identified those arrested as employes, officials, and owners of five vocational schools, including the Berlitz School of Languages of America, Inc., at Miami.

Hoover said the alleged frauds total more than $350,000.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Ray Olin Smith, 27, of 462 Decatur street was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving past the crossing gates on North Main street on the New York Central railroad tracks He was arrested at 8 39 a.m. today. The fine and costs were suspended by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

THANK YOU, OHIO

Your reception of 'TREND' has been wonderful!

All of our laboratory tests told us TREND was definitely better than other dishwashing products.

But your response to TREND has been even more enthusiastic than we dared hope for. In a public comparison test, hundreds and hundreds of Ohio women have compared TREND with their favorite washing products. And TREND has won out—on every count!

More than nine out of ten women who participated in this test reported that no soap or suds they've used could beat TREND for dishwashing, for fast grease-cutting, or for skin mildness. Yes, TREND won out — AGAINST ALL DISHWASHING PRODUCTS ON THE MARKET AT ANY PRICE.

TREND WINS HOUSEWIVES' VOTE IN 'COMPARE' TEST

Women Say Trend Cuts Grease Faster

'Lifts Off' Dried Egg; Makes Dishes Sparkle

Scientists said that TREND has the fastest grease-stripping action ever developed. And Ohio housewives proved it! More than 95 per cent of the women in the TREND 'compare' test agreed that nothing they've used can beat TREND when it comes to grease cutting!

"I like the way TREND's rich suds stay right there cutting grease until the last greasy pan is done," says Mrs. Raymond R. Cline, 1920 Greenwood, in Toledo.

That's one of the wonderful things about TREND. It rinses off completely, taking grease and dried foods right off dishes.

Mrs. M. Stroshine, of 2720 La Tonia in Toledo writes: "I've compared TREND with other detergents, and I truly believe that TREND is the best I've ever used for fast grease cutting."

And she's right! TREND is easy on the budget, and easy on your hands, too.

"I do a lot of dishwashing; but I found that the liquid detergent I was using made my hands hurt as did other washing products. But now I use TREND for dishes because it's so very mild and gentle to my hands." So writes Mrs. Nettie Granger of 352 Valleywood Drive, Toledo.

Trend Reported Milder on Hands

One major reason why TREND is preferred by so many Ohio women is because of its mildness to hands. More than 90 per cent of the housewives taking part in the test said that TREND is as mild or milder than the product they've been using in the past.

This overwhelming evidence in actual home use proves the independent laboratory tests that show TREND is milder for your skin than even the purest of the leading toilet soaps. For TREND is neutral—not acid or alkali.

Imagine a modern dishwashing suds that cuts grease faster than any soap known—yet actually babies your hands every minute they're in the dishpan. That's TREND—the new wonder suds for dishwashing!

Final Count Shows Women Prefer Trend for Dishwashing

HOW WOMEN VOTED FOR TREND

Ohio women compared TREND with their favorite dishwashing and light laundry products. More than 9 out of 10 women thought TREND was as good or better than their old favorite on all three counts. Yes, 95% of the women thought there was nothing better than TREND for dishwashing. 96% reported you can't beat TREND for fast grease-cutting in the dishpan. And 91% of the women agreed there is nothing better than TREND for mildness on skin.

Wins Approval on All 3 Points

The final vote in TREND's daring public comparison test is in and TREND has won a resounding victory with Ohio women. More than nine out of ten housewives reported that TREND can't be surpassed for dishwashing, grease-cutting and mildness to skin. "And I'm certainly happy I discovered TREND," is a typical comment from hundreds of women.

Says TREND Is Best

"TREND is really the best suds I've ever used for dishes. Now my hands are no longer rough and red. And dishwashing is faster and easier, too," says Mrs. J. Conlisk, 2831 Algonquin Pky, in Toledo, Ohio.

Space doesn't permit listing all the reasons women gave us for preferring TREND. But when it came to washing dishes, most women were delighted with TREND's "grease-cutting" ability. And they loved the way TREND left their hands soft and smooth.

Try TREND in your dishpan and see for yourself how easy dishwashing can be.

Ohio Housewives Give Frank Opinions

Space doesn't permit us to report all of the wonderful things that Ohio housewives had to say about TREND. But here are additional examples from women you may know:

After testing new TREND, Miss Alice G. Treuschel, 725 Nevada St. in Toledo, wrote: "I do like TREND very much for both dishes and my light laundry, my lens and woolens. TREND also does a good job of keeping my linoleum bright and clean."

"We've been living at the lake this summer, and have to use well water. I find that TREND does a wonderful job of grease-cutting, and makes heaps of suds even in this cold water."

Mrs. Carl Cooper
324 Valleywood Dr.
Toledo 5, Ohio

"Thank you for introducing me to TREND. I think TREND is wonderful for my sheerest silks, nylons and my woolens. TREND is fine in the dishpan, too."

Mrs. J. Schneider
2678 Northwood
Toledo 6, Ohio

"I have used other sudsers; but since I got TREND, I use it all the time. I love the way it cuts the grease so much faster than anything I've ever used in my dishpan."

Mrs. M. Sullivan
3659 Burton Ave.
Toledo 12, Ohio

"Another wonderful feature of TREND is that there's no 'dust' or 'smell', to bother my nose. TREND doesn't make me sneeze."

Chief Edwards Serving at Kodiak

Keeping Mates Well Fed Job of Marion Sailor

Helping to keep some 1,700 men well supplied with food, and thereby happy, is the job of a Marion man now serving with the U. S. Navy at Kodiak, Alaska.

The sailor is Harry E. Edwards, chief commissary steward, in charge of the cooking and baking section at the base. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Edwards of 291 Waterloo street.

Feeding the men is only a part of the job. The chief headache is the planning, preparation, distribution, purchasing and issuing of the food, besides seeing that the mess hall, kitchens, utensils, cooks, servers and table-waiters are in toptop condition.

The following figures give some idea of what Edwards and his mates in the culinary department have to provide each day: 1,900 gallons of coffee, 620 gallons of fresh milk and 1,200 pounds of potatoes.

Problem Tougher

Food problems are tougher at Kodiak than in most other stations as there is a scant local supply of meats and vegetables.

Small units about the station finding the mess hall too far for convenience use galley food in the preparation of their own meals. Aircraft squadrons also pick up tasty flight lunches for passengers and crew at the galley.

On next Tuesday, Edwards will round out 17 years of service in the Navy. Prior to going to Alaska in July this year he was stationed at San Diego, Calif. He visited his parents here in June.

Enlisting for service in Lima when he was 19 years old, he took his training at Norfolk.

After completing his training, he visited home, but did not see his parents again for four years. He was in the Panama Canal and the Pacific Islands.

During World War II he saw service in the Pacific and Australian waters. He was on a destroyer protecting the Chicago when it was sunk. His duties kept him on a destroyer until going on shore duty four years ago. In San Diego he was in an induction center where he was in charge of seven galleys.

Likes To Eat And Cook

Edwards likes to eat and likes to cook. Baked ham is his specialty. While a student in the Marion schools he wanted to take home economics but didn't. After four years service he went to cooks and bakers school at San Diego to learn his trade.

Serving in the armed forces is a brother, Roger, who is a storekeeper 3/c with the Navy at Sangley Point, Philippine Islands. Two other brothers served in World War II. They were Jimmie, now living in Los Angeles, Calif., where he is employed with the Morris Plan Bank, and Robert, now associated with the Bendix Co. at South Bend, Ind. Jimmie served with the Navy for six years during World War II, and Robert saw service in Germany, Italy and France. A sister is Mrs. Merle Smith of Delaware.

Guest Day Observed By Church W.S.W.S.

The W.S.W.S. of the First E.U.B. Church held its annual guest day in the church parlors Thursday. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Clyde Underwood, followed by devotions by Mrs. Wayne Murray.

Mrs. Murray reported on a box of clothing which had been sent to Japan.

The program was presented by Mrs. D. H. Hochstettler.

Mrs. Viola Kelly played a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Minnie Sapp at the piano. Speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Hilda Seiter Weiss, missionary from Japan, who told of her last months in Japan.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Ina Clements, Mrs. S. A. Hill, Mrs. Susie Pace, Mrs. Belle Ballenger and Mrs. Ollie Harruff as hostesses.

Hairdressers Guild Officers Hold Meeting

A special meeting of officers and committee members of the Hairdressers Guild was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Roma Kern of Wood street.

A report was given on progress of ticket sales for the hair style show to be held Sunday, Nov. 24, at Hotel Harding.

A regular monthly meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 22, at Hotel Harding. All beauticians are invited to attend this last regular meeting before the show. This includes non-members of the guild, as well as members.

MISS JOYCE LISTER

Marion Girl In Court Of College Queen

Miss Joyce Lister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Lister of 329 Carner avenue, was one of the two attendants in the homecoming queen's court at Taylor University, Upland, Ind., Saturday, Oct. 13. She was chosen from eight candidates through student body election.

The queen, Miss Jeanne Miller of Bryan and her two attendants, Miss Lister and Miss Darlene Eby of Napoleon, Mich., were presented at the Taylor-Manchester homecoming football game Saturday afternoon.

A 1950 graduate of Harding High School, Miss Lister is a sophomore, a member of the Phio society, and vice president of Gamma Delta Beta, a girls' cultural society. This year she is a university cheerleader.

D. OF A. COUNCIL MEETS

Close Race Predicted

Observers See British Election as Tossup

By RELMAN MORIN

LONDON, Oct 18—(AP)—The British national election a week from today looks like a virtual tossup now.

There are no indications of a big or developing trend at this point Various public opinion polls still report an advantage for Winston Churchill's Conservatives over the Labor party, but the margin of sentiment has been diminishing steadily for a week It has narrowed now to the dimension where it actually indicates only a very close race

Independent observers are beginning to foresee the same thing

Events abroad are moving fast, and nobody yet has been able to assess the effects for or against either party of the assassination of Pakistan's Premier Liaquat Ali Khan and the outbreak of violence in the Suez Canal area, Britain's "lifeline" to the Orient.

Floating Vote Unpredictable

In consequence, the "floating" vote is even less predictable than it was a few days ago. It is estimated at more than 2,000,000 uncommitted voters and Liberals who will have no candidates in many constituences.

The net result is a thickening fog of uncertainty

You get that feeling strongly in any attempt at a grass roots survey of public opinion

Within the past few days this reporter has gone canvassing with a team of Conservatives, and stood in crowds that gathered in three cities to hear and question Socialist Prime Minister Clement Attlee All soundings were in constituencies considered "doubtful" by both parties

Attlee, riding in an automobile driven by his wife, has been making a tour that resembles in many ways the whistle stop trip of President Truman in 1948 He has been drawing large crowds and his simple, homely manner gets respect, if not in every case agreement

He is inevitably applauded when he speaks of 'fair shakes for everybody" and says it is not only the 'privileged few' who have seen living standards rise since the war

Doesn't Tell Much

But the applause doesn't tell much It appeared to come in each case from about half the audience The other half was silent

Questions given an index to the people's thinking

At Aylesbury a man shouted, How about the dollar deficit'"

Attlee replied that it was due to rising prices in world markets and to the cost of rearmament

At Wolverton a trench-coated listener grated out one word—'Groundnuts' That's British for peanuts and the reference was to an expensive and abortive Labor government effort to cultivate large tracts of land in Africa to produce oil and fats from peanuts

The prime minister replied bluntly' It was a failure"

But he went on to say the government got its advice on the scheme from private interests and that the advice had been bad He added that the path of capitalistic enterprise was, as he put it "strewn with failures"

His audience there appeared to be largely sympathetic Wolverton is an industrial city, but there was a dull, sodden silence after his explanation about the groundnuts fiasco

Navy Recruiting Civilian Personnel

The Navy Department has stepped up its civilian recruiting program for jobs with the Naval Department in Washington Marion recruiter, Chief James A Sykes announced today

The need for young men and women in civilian posts has brought about the stepped-up program he said Miss Margaret Oglesby, civilian Navy representative, will interview men and women who can take shorthand and do typing at the Navy civilian recruiting headquarters at Columbus

Persons interested in the posts may contact Miss Oglesby at Room 103 in the Old Postorfice Building at Columbus

Commodity Prices Change

U. S. Markets Affected By Moslem Disturbances

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—Riots and assassinations in the Moslem world are unsettling the commodity markets. Together with weather damage to crops in some parts of the world, they are giving prices a boost at a time when many traders thought the market might turn weak.

Fear that the Suez Canal might be closed by the feuding between Egypt and Britain apparently has traders in London worried and they are bidding up the price of rubber and tin.

Prospects of a better export market for American grain because of crop damage in Canada, Australia and Argentina sent cereal prices higher in Chicago.

Cotton prices have stiffened recently — in spite of the large crop being picked—because the farmers are putting their cotton under the protection of the government loan and not putting it on the market.

The assassination of the Pakistan premier has traders in commodities here nervous because of the increased danger of open warfare between India and Pakistan. Trade in that part of the world is already upset by the friction between the two countries.

Effect Widespread

What happens in remote sections of the globe now effects Americans quickly, so involved have international politics and trade become.

Loss of Iran's oil refinery upset the world oil tanker routes for a time, and still puts an increased burden on oil shipments from other sources.

And open warfare in the Middle East over the dispute between Egypt and Britain could still further scramble the world commodity situation.

All of these international complications come at a time when the commodity dealers — and the industries they serve — were pretty well at sea as to what the future course of commodity prices might be.

As a whole, commodity prices turned weak last spring and didn't reverse the trend until mid-September. Many trades expected further weakness this winter—in grains and cotton because of the large crops, and in materials such as tin, rubber and wool because of the expected slow down in civilian goods production and the increasing production of raw materials.

Price Down Trend Predicted

Many traders still are betting that the general course of commodity prices next year will be downward. They scoff at the government officials and those in finance and industry who warn of inflation to come. Many traders think a mild deflation is much more likely.

In all of their calculations, however, they have to make allowances for two unknown quantities: 1. Whether the Kremlin will increase world friction and thus strengthen commodity markets, and 2. What the U. S. government will do from time to time to unsettle prices.

Traders have an example of the government's work always at hand in the price parity floors. And the cotton farmers use of this to stem the drop in cotton prices is a reminder that parity and other forms of government controls play an increasingly large role in keeping commodity trends upward.

The government has given another example yesterday. Sugar prices have been dropping recently. So the agriculture department announces that it will permit 350,000 tons less to enter the country the rest of this year than it had first said it would. The department—acting under the sugar quota law—originally set a quota of 8,250,000 tons for sugar consumption this year.

But consumers haven't been buying as much sugar as first expected. Prices sagged. Directed by law to keep sugar prices at a level deemed "to the mutual interests of producers and consumers," the Agriculture Department now sets its 1951 total quota at 7,900,000 tons. With less sugar coming into the country, the price will rise, or at least hold firm.

Sugar users may question whether that's to their mutual interest. But the sugar growers in this country will appreciate it.

D.A.V. Chapter Plans Membership Drive

Disabled American Veterans Chapter 22, met Tuesday night at the Veterans' Memorial Home James Thomas and Richard Putney reported on the meeting of representatives of all veterans' organizations held in the Dugout in which details concerning the Armistice Day parade were discussed.

The group planned a membership drive in which the chapter expects to contact all eligible disabled veterans in the Marion area.

Sokolsky

Warren, Dirksen, Stassen—I cite these as types The outsider is unwelcomed I meet organization Republicans from many states all the time and that is the general concensus of opinion among those who will choose and who will be delegates.

Nevertheless, the situation is still fluid and Eisenhower could alter it greatly by an open and frank declaration. And this I allow myself to predict: when and If General Eisenhower makes such a declaration, General Douglas MarArthur will become a factor.

CLASS SEES SLIDES

For a program at the Emanuel Lutheran Senior Bible Class meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Curtis Laubner showed colored slide pictures of New York, Vermont, and New Hampshire. Mrs. Richard Curren played piano solos. Announcement was made of a rummage sale Nov. 2 at the Palace Theater building.

Claim New Magnet Holds False Teeth

DETROIT, Oct. 18—(AP)—Do your false teeth fall out? Then the General Electric Co may have a remedy—in the form of a new "platinum-cobalt magnet," hailed as the world's most powerful. The magnet is being shown at the World Metallurgical Congress here.

Small slivers of the magnet, the company said, could be placed in false teeth. The reversed ends would cause the teeth to repel each other and so stay in the mouth.

Once-Beaten Harding Seeks 4th Win at Findlay Tonight

Prexies Rate Slight Nod Over Trojans

By JOHN SHORT

Harding's Presidents will be cast in the unfamiliar role of slight favorites tonight at Findlay when they take on the Trojans. It will mark the first time in several years, Harding has been favored to dump the once-feared Findlay crew.

The Trojans, after having dropped five in a row, will be seeking to hit the victory trail for the first time. They are still smarting from a 40-0 licking administered last week by the Dragons of Lima Central.

Hard Hit

Coach Howard Yawberg's crew lost in its opener to Cleveland Rhodes, 31-6 and then lost to Lima South, 14-0. Bowling Green dumped them 52-13 before the Trojans hit ther highpoint in holding powerful Fremont Ross, 19-13 conquerors of Sandusky, to a close 25-21 win. Ross was forced to go all out to down the scrappy Findlay gang.

Last year's squad of 34 gridders was cut by 25 by graduation and other causes. At the start of the current campaign, Yawberg expected one letterman to return, but he quit football. Every man on last year's first and second starting line was lost and only one back has any previous experience.

Expects Call

Running most of its play from a short punt formation, the team is piloted by Don Beltz, 147-pound captain and signal caller. Beltz was slowed up last week by a consistent pounding from the Dragons and has been out of practice this week. Yawberg expects him to be ready for Harding, however. Should he be out, his slot will be filled by a sophomore, Bob August. Other backs include Allan Smith at left half, Wilbur Tate at right half and Delmar Phillips at the full.

The Findlay squad finished in a tie with Fremont for the Buckeye League title last season.

Harding Coach Pete Howison says his charges will be set for the tilt. Jack Bull, Prexie center, has been laid up this week with a cold, but is expected to be ready to go. John Obenour, another lineman, will not make the trip. He has been slowed with an ankle injury and rather than aggravate the sprain, Howison has left him off the roster.

For the first time in several days, the Prexie backfield will be at full strength. Chris Brady, Jimmy Russel, Tom McClain, Chuck Taylor and Doug Bibler all are uninjured and "rarin' to go," the coaching staff reported. Brady has been taking it easy this week while fighting off a recent illness and should be ready to snake off the wraps tonight.

O.W.U. Plays Homecoming Tilt Saturday

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 18—Bolstered by three successive victories, Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops are preparing this week for their homecoming assignment against the Big Red of Denison in the 45th renewal of Wesleyan's oldest rivalry.

The Bishops lost a close one to Bowling Green before tumbling Otterbein, Buffalo and Case. Denison dropped its opener to Washington & Jefferson, tied Otterbein, and trounced Wooster.

Bishop coach, Glenn Fraser, is contemplating no changes in the O.W.U. lineup with the possible exception of offensive right end. That job has developed into a three-way fight among Bob Hilchey, Baker Smith, and Dick Brubaker.

Fans around Delaware still are commenting on the 17-14 decision over Case, which came on John Vossers' 25-yard field goal in the last 15 seconds. In the battle, left end Dale Bruce was the Bishop big gun, snagging nine passes for 255 yards and demoralizing the Rough Rider secondary with his circus catches. He took one pass from Jack Allen that covered 77 yards and knotted the score.

The play of Wesleyan's defensive line, especially when close to its own goal, also has been an outstanding feature of the early season games. The line has allowed only one touchdown, a 36-yard romp at Bowling Green. Three other touchdowns against the Bishops have scored by passing and another on a punt return.

Claim Athletes Still Want Bowl Games

Players Seek That Mid-Winter Paid Vacation

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—The folks who sponsor the Senior Bowl game at Mobile, Ala., aren't at all mad because college faculties, presidents, etc., are putting the rap on post-season games . . . They figure that every time another bowl is knocked out, they'll benefit because the athletes still will want that mid-winter paid vacation and the fans still will be interested in football . . . Joe Baksi, who starts another "comeback" against Gino Buonvino at St. Nicks tomorrow, says he took up fighting because he was "too lazy to work." . . . Sometimes it appears that he's too well-fed to fight, too . . . Baseball folks trying to negotiate a new nigh school rule want the privilege of signing kids who quit school to enter industry and of advising them whether to play football and other dangerous sports. You can figure for yourself what an ambitious scout would do with that much leeway.

* * *

The Syracuse U. football team is down to its third string quarterback since Pat Stark and Bruce Yancey both suffered broken legs . . . We didn't think that made any difference to a "T" quarter, you could just prop one up and let him give the ball away.

* * *

The Broadway Arena in Brooklyn re-opens for boxing next Tuesday, without TV and with only the competition that Berle and Sinatra can offer on the screens . . . A neutral southern observer offers the opinion that Vanderbilt's Bill Wade is a better passer than Kentucky's Babe Parilli. . . When the Rice and T. C. U. freshman teams met the other night, the Rice quarterback and a T. C. U. tackle both were named Claude Roach. Not related, either . . . Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers veep, tabs Don Zimmer, 20-year-old shortstop from Elmira, a "a big leaguer right now." . . . Publicity release from Florida State U. begins: "It's hard to believe that a team could look so bad, yet win a ball game 34-0" . . . Wonder what the other team looked like?

Believe it or not, William Jewell College of Liberty, Mo., has come up with a drop kicker. He's 18-year-old Freddie Merrell, who booted one from the 27-yard line last week.

WRIGLEY COMMENTS. Baseball Magnate Phillip K. Wrigley testifies before a House monopoly subcommittee studying proposals to relax anti-trust laws for the sport. Wrigley came out against giving baseball an outright exemption from anti-trust laws, but said some changes might help solve the sport's legal troubles.

Louis Fight With Marciano Set for TV

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Joe Louis-Rocky Marciano fight will be seen on home television Oct. 26—with seven TV manufacturers and the Gillette Safety Razor Company footing a bill of more than $100,000.

The sponsorship, disclosed yesterday, will be the second time that TV manufacturers have united to assure home viewers a seat at a top sports event.

1,500 See Vernon Win Round Robin

Jim Lawler's Vernon gridders walked off with top honors as they rolled to a 21-0 verdict over Edison and downed State Street Junior High School, 7-0. Edison dumped State Street, 26-14, in the other tilt.

In the Edison game, Dave Duncan and Bill Merchant sparked the Vernon attack. Duncan scored twice on runs of 46 and 47 yards. Merchant scampered 81 yards for the other Vernon TD. Alvin Thomas plunged for all three extra points.

Strong Defense

Joe Albinack was the spearhead of the Edison offense in their win over State Street. He hit paydirt twice and added one extra point. Hazen and Stauffer added the other two TD's while Firstenberger added a point after.

The Edison crew got off to a fast start with 14 points in the first eight-minute period. They added 12 in the second as State Street's attack began to function.

Last Period TDs

The two last period TD's were scored for the losers by Larry Cross and Gary Ballenger. Ballenger posted one extra point while Sterling Moore came through with the other.

Three 12-minute halves were played during the round robin with each of the three junior high schools taking part in two. Results of the tourney have no effect on the Tri-City League standings.

12,000 Fish Dumped Into County Waters

Members of the Marion County Fish and Game Association yesterday afternoon dumped some 12,000 fish into Marion County waters.

Included in the fish were an estimated 2,000 black bass and 10,000 bluegills. They were placed in the association's private grounds on Route 4 north of Marion and the Whetstone River, north of Caledonia.

Football Begins At 40 for Player On West Coast

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18—(AP)—Everyone is familiar with the phrase that "life begins at ——." Here's man who is again beginning, at the age of 40, to play college football.

He is Bush Manson, a tall, lean, 180-pound Negro, and he stoutly denies—well, he denies that he is older.

Played in '32

Bush said he last played college football in 1932 with Wilberforce College in Ohio. "Played center and guard and weighed 'bout 169. Played right well, too," he added.

Then he had to drop out of school and 19 years went by, the last dozen or more keeping Bush hard at work raising three youngsters and tending a very sick wife.

Akins Eyes Shot at Title

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18—(UP)—Virgil Akins was well up on the list of fighters waiting for a crack at Jimmy Carter's lightweight title today, thanks to a punishing split decision over Luther Rawlings last night.

The St. Louis fighter, weighing in at 134¾ pounds, had to stave off a determined attack from his Chicago opponent in the closing rounds of the 10-round bout to win the approval of the referee and one of two judges.

Muskingum Takes Offensive Lead

DELAWARE, Oct. 18—Muskingum has taken over the lead from Heidelberg in total offense in the Ohio Conference according to the latest figures from the conference statistics bureau.

The powerful Muskies, holding a season's record of two wins and a tie which came against Heidelberg, rolled up a 452-yard total as they downed Slippery Rock State Teachers College last week. This gave Muskingum an 1,163-yard three-game total or 387.7 per game average.

Heidelberg, meantime, picked up 365 yards in defeating Wittenberg for a 378.3 average in their unbeaten skein of four games. Denison leaped from sixth place a week ago to third with a 342.3-yard game average. Just 10 yards off the Big Red pace was Oberlin, and only three-tenths of a point in fifth came the Purple Raiders of Mount Union.

LEAP TO FREEDOM

Purdue Back Leads Big 10

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 — (AP)—Quarterback Dale Samuels of Purdue has jumped into the Big Ten's top passing spot on the basis of his performance against Iowa Oct. 6.

DIMAGGIO AT BAT

TOKYO, Oct. 18—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio goes up against Giant pitching again Saturday—the Yomiura Giants, that is. The Yankee Clipper and other American baseball stars open a 15 game tour of Japan against the champion of Japan's professional leagues.

Newsmen Called By Congress In Baseball Airing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Men who are paid to watch and write about ball games get a chance today to tell Congress what they know about baseball.

The house monopoly committee called R. G. Lynch of the Milwaukee Journal and Franklin V. Yeutter of the Philadelphia Bulletin for their opinions.

The committee, headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY), heard Philip Wrigley predict yesterday the time isn't far off when the Pacific Coast League will get a major league label.

Wrigley, the multi-millionaire owner of the Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles Angels, told the investigators "progress" is being made in ironing out difficulties between the westerners and the majors.

The big stumbling block, he indicated, is the rule which permits the majors to pick one player from each Pacific Coast League team after every season. That's called the draft.

And freedom from the draft rule is what the Pacific Coast League is demanding, he said, under a bonafide threat to become an independent if a change isn't made.

Tickets Still Available For Football Special

Tickets are still available for a Hub Bar and Grill football special to Cleveland on Oct. 28, it was announced today.

The Cleveland Browns play host to the New York Giants on that day and tickets are available in the reserved seat section at the midfield stripe as well as upper deck end zone seats. The special train will leave Marion at 9:30 a.m. and return for home at 7 p.m.

CLEANING OUT THE DESK. The Lima News quoted George Miller, Lima South High School faculty manager as saying, "We had a basketball game lined up with Marion Harding Dec. 7, but they backed out on the deal. Now the Marion coach is advertising for a game at home or away on that date. Looks to me like they are looking for an easy game."

Harding opponents are loud in their praise of Jimmy Russell who seems to be coming into his own after failing to live up to his promises as a sophomore. Jimmy is leading in ground gaining and TD's and outside newspapers have been loud in their praise of him.

* * *

NO TIME FOR QUESTIONS. Football's platoon system caused a few anxious moments for Coach Ray Roobins in a recent game. Ray noted his team was short two players on the field. He grabbed Jim Irvin and another lineman and said, "Get out there, any position."

Incidentaly, Irish followers who traveled to Columbus for the game last week came back disappointed in their complete reversal of form in the second half.

* * *

Anyone heard what became of the plan to bring a professional ice hockey team to the Coliseum this winter? Officials have been mum for past months now . . .

CHANGES UNIFORMS. Martin Lewis, one of the first Marines back from Korea, wasted no time in getting back to football. Home a little over a week, he played for Ohio Northern last Saturday. Lewis was a member of the Polar Bear eleven when called back into service. He is married and has two children . . . .

* * *

Ohio Wesleyan followers are still talking about the Bishop's victory over Case, 17-14, in the last 20 seconds of the game at Delaware last Saturday. John Vossers, Galion product, kicked a 2-yard field goal from a difficult angle with time running out. The Bishops tangle with Denison in a homecoming game at Delaware Saturday . . . Harry Dowler, Harding graduate, is a member of the Bishop eleven.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER. Coach Pete Howison and his charges aren't taking Findlay too lightly tonight despite the "experts" who rate them as favorites.

They remember two years ago when the Prexies went to the Trojan field a four-touchdown underdog and pulled the upset of the week, by cuffing the then mighty Trojans handily. That was the game in which Paul Ludwig, former Harding great, ran wild, scoring five TDs.

Favors Bucks Against Indiana

Predicts Cal Will Stay Among Unbeaten Teams

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—Four weeks of upsets have convinced most gridiron followers that footballs, and football forecasters, are made of some animal, some vegetable and many minerals such as can be found in the air.

With that warning, here are this week's winners:

California over Southern California: Southern California engineered one minor miracle by beating Washington. It is asking too much of them to repeat the event against a team that includes both Les Richter and John Olszewski.

Tennessee over Alabama: On Sept. 1 there was every indication that this would be the game of the year. But it has lost a lot of its luster because Alabama has dropped its last three games. Too much Hank Lauricella.

Likes M.S.C.

Michigan State over Penn State: The Spartans have won their last two with four quarter scoring outbursts. They had better have an outburst per quarter against Penn State.

Arkansas over Texas: This selection definitely is against all the odds but the choice is made in the belief that Arkansas is hopped up for this contest.

Texas A & M. over Texas Christian: Fullback Bobby Smith makes the difference.

Illinois over Washington: Johnny Karras and Don Stevens give the unbeaten Illini too much punch for Washington, still without its great Don Heinrich.

Baylor over Texas Tech: Too much Isbell.

Skipping over the other in a hurry:

FRIDAY NIGHT

Boston College over Detroit, College of Pacific over Boston University, Miami over Washington and Lee, the Citadel over Furman, Wake Forest over George Washington, Xavier over Louisville.

SATURDAY

East: Army over Harvard, Brown over Colgate, Cornell over Yale, Holy Cross over New York University, Penn over Columbia, Rutgers over Lehigh, San Francisco over Fordham, Syracuse over Dartmouth, Temple over Delaware.

South: Davidson over Richmond, Duke over Virginia Tech, Kentucky over Villanova, Louisiana State over Georgia, Mississippi over Tulane, North Carolina State over William & Mary, Vanderbilt over Florida, Virginia over Virginia Military.

Midwest: Bradley over New Mexico A. & M., Cincinnati over Western Reserve, Colorado over Kansas State, Iowa State over Missouri, Iowa over Michigan, Minnesota over Nebraska, Northwestern over Navy, Notre Dame over Pittsburgh, Ohio State over Indiana, Oklahoma A. & M. over Drake, Oklahoma over Kansas, Tulsa over Marquette, Wisconsin over Purdue.

Southwest: Houston over Hardin-Simmons, Texas Western over New Mexico.

SWITCH CLUBS

Pair Hunted In Baby Case

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 18—(AP)—A factory worker and his wife who have been missing a week were sought today for questioning in the disappearance of a newborn baby from a hospital nursery.

Following all possible leads, police wanted to check the possibility that the wife might be the mysterious "woman in white" reported seen in the hospital about the time the baby disappeared.

The baby, Lawrence James Lyons, vanished from his crib at St. Anthony Hospital Saturday. He was born Oct. 9 to Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons of Michigan City.

The missing factory worker's wife was described as a former employe of another Michigan City hospital. Friends said the couple told them their only child had died about two weeks ago.

Tips came from many sources, and police checked them all. Paul Wilhelm, state police detective assigned to the case, said the best lead so far came from a machinist, John Boehnlein.

Boehnlein said that while standing in a corridor near the hospital's maternity ward he saw a woman in a nurse's uniform leave the nursery with a baby and take a descending elevator. He described her as "a woman in her late 20's with a pinched face."

Minor Damage Results In Two Auto Accidents

Minor damage was reported in an accident at 11:45 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by Theodore Frericks, 33, of 198 South Seffner avenue struck a parked car owned by Anthony J. Todaro of 539 South Main street. The Todaro car was parked in front of his home, police reported.

Program Scheduled Monday

Business and Industrial Leaders To Tour Schools

Industrial leaders and retail merchants of Marion will go back to school Monday for classes and lunch with the rest of the "kids."

Marion public and parochial school systems have invited members of the Manufacturer's Council, Industrial Leaders Conference and Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce to meet at the State Street Junior High School at 10 a.m. Monday for a tour of classes to observe work of the teachers and students.

The men will have lunch at noon in the lunch room at the State Street School, after which they will meet in the music room. Here, goals of the school systems and methods of reaching these goals will be explained.

In the afternoon, the men will be divided into eight groups for tours of the elementary schools, where they will see the actual classroom work of the children. Each group will visit two elementary schools, one school at 1:20 p.m. and another at 2:30 p.m.

Monday's program is a followup of last spring's Business-Industry-Education Program, of the Chamber of Commerce in which teachers were guests of industries in Marion.

The tour Monday will give men in industry an opportunity to observe programs of the schools and see what the schools are trying to accomplish, reported Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of city schools.

Whips Woman To Death In Religious Rite

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 18—(AP)—A leader of a religious cult was held in jail today in connection with the death of an elderly woman member whom he admitted whipping during cult rites "to drive out the devil."

Citing Biblical quotations, members of the religious sect attempted to explain the fatal beating of Mrs. Ann Halvorson, 64, and the serious injury of a second woman.

"The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil and so do stripes the inward parts of the belly," was one Biblical quotation (Proverbs 20:30) cited by a member of the sect.

Sheriff Thomas Gibbons said Curtis Lennander, 33, a railroad worker, admitted last night in a tape-recorded statement that he fatally whipped Mrs. Halvorson Monday night after first whipping his wife.

"I know I am absolutely guilty; I was in a frenzy; I beat them down," the sheriff quoted Lennander as saying. "Whipping is needed for wrongdoing and almost always a person who gets it admits it. It drives out the devil."

Dr. A. M. Lundholm, deputy coroner, said an autopsy showed all of Mrs. Halvorson's right ribs were broken as well as one on the left side and her breastbone. He said her body was covered with welts and blood clots.

Christmas Theme Used In Meeting of W.S.C.S.

A Christmas theme was followed when the W.S.C.S. of Epworth Methodist Church met recently at the church. Members took articles to fill Christmas boxes for welfare institutions and sang Christmas carols. Mrs. Esther Hale, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. K. Mouser, sang two Christmas songs.

Luncheon was served by Circle One, and Circle Two planned the program. Devotions were led by Mrs. L. F. Irey. Mrs. R. T. Thew reviewed the life of Mrs. William Brewster, a Methodist Episcopal missionary in China for more than 60 years.

Mrs. Fred Ellery announced that Oct. 25 to 31 is the annual week of self-denial. Mrs. Lucille Pessell reported on her week's stay at Lakeside. Announcement was made that the society will be hostess to the district W.S.C.S. conference at the church May 14.

A meeting of the executive board at 11:30 a.m. preceded the meeting.

P.-T.A. Endorses Levy, Hears Talk on Narcotics Problem

Endorsement of the 4-mill school operating levy and a talk by Howard E. Hamlin, supervisor of health and narcotic education for the State Department of Education in Columbus were highlights of the first meeting of the year of the Vernon Junior High School P.-T.A. Monday night at the school.

The City Council of Parents and Teachers met jointly with the Vernon Unit to hear the talk by Mr. Hamlin on "Ohio's Initiative in Coping With the Spread of the Narcotic Problem."

The talk regarding the school levy was given by Karl D. Bechtle.

Mr. Hamlin, in discussing the narcotic problem, stated that it is the aim of the department of education to present the facts regarding the problem and not to dramatize the subject and make it colorful, in that the youth might be tempted. He gave statistical figures for the larger cities, such as New York City, Los Angeles and Chicago where the addiction of teen agers has been alarmingly high, explaining that the addicts run 60 percent boys and 40 percent girls. The drugs, he told his audience, are injected in the veins of the arms and legs and finally the jugular vein of the neck, causing blue streaks over those portions of the body.

No Addiction Here

The speaker told the P.-T.A members that as yet there is no evidence of drug addiction in this locality, but the department has taken a number of steps in the event of such an occurrence.

These preparedness steps have included: the mailing of questionnaires to schools and presidents of P.-T.A units, to which there has been good response; the preparing of articles, news items and other literature for use by P.-T.A. units and school officials; establishing of hospitals for the cure of drug addicts, two of which are at Lexington, Ky., and Ft. Worth, Texas; and also the passing of laws levying a heavy penalty for dope peddlers.

Mr. Hamlin asked everyone to be alert on the subject and reminded them if the problem of teen age addiction arises in this locality, the department will be prepared and ready to cope with the situation.

In the business session, committee chairmen for the 1951-52 school year were named by the president, H. H. Snouffer, as follows: Clark Fouts and Mrs. John Waddell, program; Mrs. R. A. Bagely, membership; Mrs. B. H. Taylor, hospitality; Mrs. Malcolm Strelitz, publicity; Mrs. Clare Smith, publications; Mrs. Merle Wise, finance; Mrs. Dale Weston, social; Rev. Frederick Leech, citizenship; Mrs. E. J. Carey, Girl Scouts, and Mrs. LeRoy Schneider, music.

Officers Of Groups

Officers of the unit, in addition to Mr. Snouffer, are Mrs. John Waddell, first vice president, Clark Fouts, second vice president, Mrs. Clair Ridgway, secretary, John Smith, treasurer, Mrs. Vernon Street, council representative, and Carson Cook, alternate.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Leech, after which a welcome to the members and guests was extended by Mr. Snouffer. Mr. Fouts, principal of the school, introduced members of the faculty, including 12 regular teachers, six part time teachers, three workers, the school nurse, the psychologist and Lester L. Dickey, city school superintendent. Two new teachers at Vernon this year are Emile John, mathematics and science, and Donald H. Baggs, instructor in mechanical drawing and industrial arts. Mrs. Bagley, membership chairman, reported a total of 223 members in the unit to date.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the social committee headed by Mrs. Weston as chairman.

Tag Day Planned

It was announced the P.-T.A. council's annual Tag Day will be conducted in the downtown district Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. The money collected is used for welfare work among children and for the local schools.

Mrs. Carl Campbell is chairman of the Tag Day committee. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Clifford Frost, Mrs. Dale Weston, Mrs. George Black, and Mrs. Clarence Pryor.

Armistice Day Committee Launches Plans

A group of representatives of the various veterans organizations in the city, making up an Armistice Day parade committee, met Tuesday night in the American Legion Dugout to launch plans for a parade in Marion in November in observance of Armistice Day.

Saturday night, Nov. 10, was set as the date for the parade. Present plans are for the various groups to form at 7:45 p.m. and move through downtown Marion at 8.

James E. Thomas was named chairman of the group, Wayne Willis co-chairman, and Miss Emily Wolfel, secretary. William E Marks was appointed parade committee chairman.

Others appointed to serve on committees were Miss Wolfel and Chris Lagos, publicity, R. E. Copeland, bands, D. J. MacDonald, floats, John Dean, transportation, and Bob Harraman, equipment.

The next meeting of the committee is scheduled, for Monday night, Oct 22, at 8 in the Veterans Memorial Home. Heads of all veterans organizations and presidents of all civic organizations are urged to be present.

What Price Pride?

By FRANK TRIPP

TRIPP

FROM where I'm writing I can watch Wilson building a chimney alongside what for 50 years was Will Gardner's kitchen. It's going to become a living room, with a fireplace and a picture window to frame a view of 15 miles down Seneca Lake.

Nellie's faithful old Dockash range, which stood right where the window goes, lies cracked and rusting on a trash pile. The leanto off the kitchen, which contained the only bathroom Will and Nellie ever had, has been torn down; the rickety back porch, where their hand-cranked washerstood, comes comes down too.

The Perrys who will live there are going to have a bathroom upstairs. Will and Nellie got along 50 years without one. They're going to have an electric stove and water heater and all the modern gadgets; though they're only going to live there Summers. Will and Nellie lived there all year 'round, right on the windswept beach; sometimes snowbound.

There's nothing strange about putting new things into an old house; it's often done What's strange about it is that Will and Nellie could have had them too, but never did.

You've heard me tell about Will He could do anything; was builder, plumber, electrician; anything he chose to be. He built houses, bathrooms, picture windows for lots of people; but he built very few conveniences for himself.

* * *

IT WASN'T that they couldn't afford it for Will and Nellie were pretty well fixed. They could better afford the modern luxuries than could some of the people for whom Will installed them. Though Will never earned better than a dollar an hour, this couple owned two houses and had a comfortable competence besides.

Well past 80, so lame he could hardly walk, Will still trudged down stairs to the bathroom off the kitchen, still split wood for a kitchen range. Not until his old coal furnace fell apart and he positively could not get down to tend it, did he put in an oil burner—then lived to enjoy it only one Winter.

It's a question if he really did enjoy it, for Will cherished old things that he'd tinkered up and made to serve him twice the years that their makers intended them to last.

Scores of times I said to Will "Why in heaven's name don't you get a new so-and-so?—or why not build a few comforts for himself, as he did for so many other people. Will would reply "Oh mercy, that motor will last as long as I will" or "We're as cozy as bugs in a rug."

Then came the tragedy of it all. Two years before Will died at 85, he cracked up; lost a leg, got where all he could do was work on small pieces of furniture from his wheel chair. His well-kept place began to run down. The tinkered-up gadgets that were to last as long as he did began to balk. They defied the lesser genius of those who tried to keep them going. The whole of the proud Gardner institution fell apart—and Will and Nellie too.

* * *

AFTER A LONG and expensive siege with hospitals and operations, Will is gone. Nellie has never left her sickbed. Their houses were turned into cash; nothing but Will's quaint shop remains intact. That I've rescued and will tenant for my lifetime. By then perhaps there'll be no on left to care.

What's the point of all this chatter? It's that I don't know yet whether Will was right, or I. I pleaded with him to enjoy some of the competence he'd earned before it was too late. He insisted that he had everything he needed. As to that I knew better, when I saw him age and struggle with the outdated, inconveniences that were all about him.

Of all that Will and Nellie saved, mighty little made life easier or happier for them in the days when they could have enjoyed it. Doctors, hospitals, medicines got it all, while they both were flat on their backs, with no near kin to comfort them.

All about them were people getting the same care at the state's expense; people who in their whole lives never did as much for their fellow man as Will Gardner did each day from sun to sun; people who never contributed to anything except their own ease and pleasure.

The question: Did Will and Nellie owe all this to a society that voluntarily shoulders for wastrels the burden that this sacrificing couple shouldered for themselves? Will and Nellie paid their way—but

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

My heart traveled downward so fast at Mildred Grey's anguished question it hit the nadir with a thump. For a second I did not see what I could do for her. She was in the position of a soldier giving his life for his country, relinquishing all the hopes she had cherished and for which she and her parents had fought so bravely.

But my father's need of her in his problem of thwarting an arch traitor was so great that I could not tell her she could be relieved from her promise to aid him. My knowledge of his resourcefulness, gave me a gleam of hope.

"I can see your problem," I told her, "but will you make me one promise?"

"I am sorry, but I must know what it is first," she said firmly.

"I am simply asking you to make no definite movement on your resolution to quit college until I have a chance to get in contact with my father. I am sure I can get in touch with him before you have to leave for Northampton. Indeed, there is no need for you to go back at any set time. He has arranged all that."

Her face was frankly puzzled now.

"Why, my father will get in touch with your college authorities tonight or tomorrow and arrange for your absence," I told her. "They will grant him anything he asks because of the work he is doing."

"How wonderful" she said. Then despair crept into her voice again.

"But," she said, "I am afraid even his great power could not solve my problem. However, I promise you I will not tell the college authorities I am leaving until after I have talked with your father."

I put my arms around her as I had wanted to do ever since her first despairing cry, and hugged her tightly.

"Please believe me," I said. "There is distinct hope for you. I know my father. Do not think of your problem again until he has talked to you."

"I'll try to obey you," she said wanly. And then her arms tightened around me almost savagely.

"I do love you so much," she said, and with tears smarting in my own eyes, I kissed her tenderly.

"My husband would tell you to keep the little chin up," I told her, forcing a smile, and from some depth of courage she brought a smile to her own lips.

"I'll carry on," she whispered, and then we went back into the living room.

"I must ask you to be patient with me," I told the others. "I must make a telephone call, and then I will come back and tell you the rest of the things my father has planned."

"You'd better call a doctor first," Hank told me impudently, "for the heart attacks we all feel coming on."

"I'll put in a call for him, too," I said, wrinkling my nose at him, and then Dicky rose lazily to his feet.

"I'll just go along with you," he said, "and see that you get your number. You always have trouble when you take down a telephone receiver."

Wyandot Co. Teachers Attend Workshop

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—A total of 53 elementary teachers of grades one to six of the Wyandot County schools were attending an In-Service Education Art Workshop Monday through Wednesday at Sycamore High School.

Arrangements were made to close afternoon sessions of the county schools early to permit the teachers to attend the three day, 15 hour course. Enrollment of the elementary teachers for the course was made through the superintendents of the several schools and County Superintendent D. W. Oman.

Materials and supervision for the course are being furnished by Binney & Smith Co. Their representative, Miss Elizabeth Ohlrogge, is the instructor. Miss Ohlrogge, a graduate of Indiana University and former art critic teacher there, has been conducting the workshops since 1946. She has also had several years of art teaching experience at all grade levels in public school work.

Korean Pastor Tells of Escape From Reds

Sunday School children and the congregation of First Church of the Nazarene heard Sunday a Korean minister, Rev. Robert Chung, tell of his native land and of the escape of his family from the Communists last year. He is now traveling throughout the country for the denomination in the interest of missions and will go to Canada in the near future to tell his story.

At the Sunday School hour, in a short talk to the children's department, Rev. Chung told of the few privileges Korean children have, how they are poorly treated, and have little food, no bread and meat but twice a year on holidays. He spoke to the high school class later, telling of the need for clothing, and the class voted to send a box to a chaplain with the request that he see to distribution of the clothes to needy Koreans.

Rev. Chung, in the story of the family's escape, told of the persecution of the South Koreans by the Communists, especially the Christian church members, and of the narrow escapes he and his wife and children had in fleeing their home in Seoul. He told of their deep gratitude to "Uncle Sam" for protection and for refuge in this country. The family was permitted to travel to this country on return of a troop ship which had just landed American fighting men on Korean soil, by direct order of "the big general himself."

He said the Korean people, though their country is laid waste, feel that right and justice will triumph finally, and that the Korean Christians look forward and upward to the eventuality of a "home in Heaven where there will be no more sorrow." For his own and his family's safety, which he believes to be a modern miracle, he gave a testimony of faith and praise to God.

Churchill Favored 9-2 By British Betters

LONDON, Oct. 18 — (AP) — Heavy betting on Winston Churchill and his Conservative party to win the Oct. 25 British election drove the odds still longer against the Labor government today.

In the books of Douglas Stuart, one of the nation's biggest bet takers, backers of Prime Minister Attlee's labor party can put up 2 pounds to win 7 pounds. Conservative supporters must bet 9 pounds to win 2.

The odds reflect the weight of betting money on both sides. Not the bookies' opinions, a Stuart spokesman said. A few days ago Stuart was offering 3 to 1 against Labor and 1 to 4 against the Conservatives.

NAVY CLUB WOMEN MEET

When the Marion Navy Club auxiliary met Monday night, reports were given on the Ohio Squadron fall reunion in Springfield last weekend. Mrs. Valeria Haughn reported candy and cards sent to the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe. A masquerade Halloween party and box supper will be held at the Navy clubrooms Oct. 29. The next regular meeting of the auxiliary will be Nov. 5 at the Ohio Edison Co. office at 7:30 p.m.

Republicans Think They'll Carry West

There'll Be No "Me Too" Campaign, Says Gabrielson

Ten of the 11 member states voted for President Truman in 1948. Only Oregon supported Republican Thomas E. Dewey.

Why the optimism, then?

Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national committee chairman, and other speakers said:

There'll be no "me, too" campaign next year. The party has plenty of issues this time—headed by charges of Democratic corruption and Communists-in-government. And it's not going to let 1948 overconfidence set in again.

Delegates applauded a statement by Senator Harry P. Cain (R-Wash) that Senator Robert Taft was "an honest, intelligent, courageous American," but endorsed no candidate for president.

Sale Officials Alerted for Bad Check Artist

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE — Sheriffs and sale clerks of central Ohio have been alerted to be on the lookout for a man who visits public auction sales at farms and gives bad checks in payment for livestock.

The most recent of the man's operations was at the sale of Ezra Fowler of near Marysville where, Sheriff Walter Galloway of Union County says, he gave a clerk a check for $1,130 on his bid for five head of cattle. The check was on a band at London.

Sheriff Galloway said the bank had no account for a "James Conway," the name signed on the check. The sheriff said it is believed the same man gave a bad check for $900 for livestock in Logan County and one for $1,090 for livestock in Hardin County at public sales.

Galion Couple Mark Golden Anniversary

Special to The Star

GALION—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Nungesser of near Galion was an event of Wednesday, Oct. 17. The celebrants observed the event with a family dinner Sunday at the Mt. Gilead Inn.

Mrs. Nungesser is the former Antonia Kile Nungesser. She and Mr. Nungesser were married Oct. 17, 1901, by Rev. H. G. Sutter at the Lutheran parsonage in Galion. For the past 22 years the couple have lived at their present home.

They have three children: Clayton of Galion; Kenneth of Springfield; and Jean, at home. There are four grandchildren.

Mr. Nungesser serves as clerk of the Polk Township School Board besides working his farm.

ATTENDS TRAVEL SCHOOL

GALION—Grace Thomas, secretary of the Galion Automobile Club, and Mrs. John Engle, clerk in the club headquarters, attended a two-day travel school in Columbus, Monday and Tuesday. The school was conducted by the Ohio State Automobile Association at the Neil House, and included a tour, Tuesday, of the Ohio State Museum at Ohio State University.

Herring on Your Food Budget

SAY IT WITH HERRING . . . In a delicious casserole.

* * *

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want a deliciously different main dish for lunch or supper try this Herring Potato, and Tomato Bake. You'll be surprised at the intriguing flavor of the herring when it's baked in this way. Green peas, a tossed green salad, and hot rolls are fine accompaniments to this dish. If you buy one of the 1-pound 5 ounce tins of Holland herring (holding six to seven and costing around 80 cents) you can use two of them for this hot dish, and you can make a delicious Sour Cream Herring Appetizer out of the rest for another meal.

HERRING, POTATO, TOMATO

Ingredients: 2 canned Holland herring, 4 medium potatoes (cut in very thin slices), ¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 3 medium-sized tomatoes (peeled and diced), ½ teaspoon oregano, 2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons olive oil.

Method: Clean and soak herring in cold water 24 hours, changing water 2 or 3 times. Remove skin and bones, separating each fish into 2 fillets; rinse and drain. Cut fillets into bite size pieces. Place potato slices in bottoms of four greased shirred egg dishes or individual shallow casseroles. Sprinkle with pepper, onion, and parsley. Divide herring and tomatoes among the four casseroles. Sprinkle with oregano, bread crumbs, and olive oil. Bake in moderate (375° F.) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Note always soak herring in a glass dish or stone crock.

HERRING APPETIZER

Ingredients: 4 to 5 canned Holland herring, 1 medium-sized onion, 1 cup red wine vinegar, ¼ cup water, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 teaspoons mixed whole spices, 12 peppercorns, 7 very thin lemon slices, ½ cup commercially prepared thick sour cream.

Method: Clean and soak herring in cold water 24 hours, changing water 2 or 3 times. Remove skin and bones, separating each fish into 2 fillets; rinse and drain. Cut each fillet crosswise into three pieces. Peel onion and slice into thin rounds; separate into rings. Arrange alternate layers of herring and onion in a glass jar. In a saucepan mix vinegar, water, brown sugar, mixed whole spices, peppercorns, and lemon slices and bring quickly to a boil. Cool until lukewarm; pour over herring and onion; cover tightly. (If jar has metal lid that might corrode from vinegar solution cover first with waxed paper.) Refrigerate 12 to 24 hours. Remove herring, onion, and lemon slices and discard liquid and spices; mix herring, onion, and lemon with sour cream. Makes 8 servings.

Pearl Street P.-T.A. Meets

Miss Philomen Gregg, principal of Pearl Street School, introduced members of the faculty at the first meeting of the Pearl Street P.-T.A. Tuesday night in the auditorium.

Mrs. George Howser, first vice president, reported on the 46th annual Ohio Congress of P.-T. A. held in Columbus last week.

Devotions were conducted by Arthur Haas, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Billy Bogart, member of the fourth grade, gave three musical selections on the accordion.

Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of schools, addressed the group on "Our Schools and the Coming Election," after which the association voted to support the four mill school levy.

Defense Bond Sales Total $74,998

The county now has attained 59.9 percent of its quota of $125,000.

Galion Fixes Pay Of Police, Firemen

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 17—Controversy over the pay of the top officers of the Galion police department apparently was ended with the passage, Tuesday night, of a new ordinance fixing salary raises for all employes in the police and fire departments. The ordinance, passed Sept. 18, and vetoed by Mayor Jay F. Nichols was discarded in preference for the new ordinance.

The new ordinance provides the following salaries: chiefs of the two departments, $305 per month; captains, $290 per month; safety officer of police department, $280 per month; regular patrolmen and regular firemen, $260 per month; probationary patrolmen and firemen, $225 per month; extra firemen, $225 per month; extra patrolmen, $1.30 per hour.

An ordinance to proceed with the improvement of Hetrick avenue from North Market street to Fairview avenue by hard surfacing and installation of curbs, gutters and necessary storm sewers was passed.

An ordinance to give 43 employes of the electric light, water and sewage plant departments a 13 cents per hour cost-of-living raise was given first reading and by motion was referred to the finance committee.

Council adopted a resolution authorizing the service director to employ a consulting engineer or engineers to draw up a long-term plan of improvement for the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant.

TIFFIN MAN LOSES 40 LBS. WITH RENNEL

"I cannot say enough for what Rennel has done for me," writes Mr. D. S. Ladd, Box 805, Tiffin, Ohio. "I am 67 years of age. Since taking Rennel I have lost 40 lbs. and feel so much better."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blost disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Group Backs Family Service Society

Junior Service Guild Endorses School Levy

The Junior Service Guild of Marion, at a meeting Saturday at the Marion Country Club, endorsed the 4-mill school operating levy and made a contribution of $100 to the Board of Education toward promoting the levy. This action was taken following a talk regarding the levy given by Mrs. Newton Cunningham.

Five men, representing the Marion Community Chest organization, were present as guest speakers, talking on the new Family Service Society, which now is a branch of the Red Feather Agency. The Guild voted to endorse the Family Service Society. The speakers included Francis Huber, Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Dr. Frederick W. Rea, Edwin J. Kinter and J. E. Oliphant, all introduced by Mrs. Glen Penry.

A new project of the Guild, that of taking over the chapel in Marion County Children's Home and completely redecorating and furnishing it as a game and activity room for the children, was presented to the group. In charge of promoting this project are Mrs. Herbert Petrich, chairman of the Children's Home committee, and Mrs. Edwin Probst, chairman of the community arts committee, assisted by members of their groups.

Mrs. Rea Presides

Mrs. Frederick W. Rea presided for the meeting and introduced 22 new members. They are Mrs. Clovis Altmaier, Mrs. Milton Axthelm, Mrs. Harold Bonecutter, Mrs. Phillip Boyd, Mrs. Marion Burton, Mrs. Louie Cummins Jr., Mrs. Myron Ferry, Mrs. J. W. Fretz, Mrs. Obal Gearhiser Jr., Miss Elizabeth Gray, Mrs. George Griffiths, Mrs. Lowell Hamburg, Mrs. Ralph Howard, Mrs. Richard Lister, Mrs. Robert Maginn, Mrs. Thayer Martin, Mrs J. W. McNoldy, Mrs. Paul D. Michel, Mrs. Roger Morgan, Mrs. Warren Rowley, Mrs Richard Stadler and Mrs. Harvey Ward.

Mrs. Glen Penry, educational chairman, announced plans for three educational meetings to be held this year. The first will be Oct. 30 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church parish house with Mrs. Mildred Schuetz, Loren Giblin and Eugene White, all of the Marion County Children's Home, as speakers. Mrs. Robert LaMarche, general chairman of the "Follies of 1951," reported on progress in arrangements for the follies.

Discuss Activities

A discussion of activities in the Children's Home story hour, another project of the Guild, was given by Mrs. Myron Ferry, who serves as chairman of the project. She announced that present plans include using film strips for various programs, allow the children to relate their own stories, and also conducting craft classes. The story hour is conducted every other Friday night. For the next story hour, Oct. 27, a Halloween party is being planned. Mrs. Ferry also announced that records for use in various programs have been offered by Mrs. Oliver Bush of Uhler's record department, and also that she plans to instruct the children in finger painting and also have mild physical education programs in the spring and summer seasons.

Another Guild project, plans for which now are under way, was announced by Mrs. Probst. Radio plays to be presented by children are being arranged. Miss Madge Cooper discussed creative activity in radio plays. A work shop for interested persons is being formed.

Three children's plays scheduled to be presented at the Palace Theater in future months were announced by Mrs Probst. They include: "The Three Bear's Christmas Story" by players from the State Teachers College in Indiana, Pa., on Dec. 15; Hans Christian Anderson's story, "The Emperor's New Clothes" by the Ohio Wesleyan University players, on Feb 16; and "Dick Whittington and His Cat" by the Children's World Theatre of New York, on April 5.

Kindergarten Report

A report was given by Mrs. Robert Kraner, chairman of the kindergarten, in which 25 children were reported enrolled. Mrs. Louis Duckworth is the instructor and is assisted by Mrs. Evelyn McCombs and a Guild volunteer worker each day. First meeting of the year of the kindergarten parents has been set for Oct. 26. Mrs. John Lightner, social and welfare chairman, announced.

Members were reminded that the "Give A Christmas" project would be sponsored again this year by the Guild, with Mrs. D. J. Sansotta, chairman, announcing that the secretary, Mrs. William Douce, will again set up an office at the Salvation Army for the period of Dec. 10-24. Serving on the committee with Mrs Sansotta are Mrs. Joseph Scandling, Mrs. J. B. Walter, Mrs. Walter Moore, Mrs. Gottfried Moore, Mrs. Elmer Niskanen, Mrs. Frank Powers, Mrs. Harold Bonecutter, Miss Elizabeth Gray and Mrs. Robert Hastings.

A tea in honor of the new members followed the meeting. In charge of arrangements were Mrs. David Evans, Mrs. Wilson Tway and Mrs. Edgar Barnhart.

BOND SALE LAGS

MARYSVILLE—Union County has reached 33.6 percent of its Series E Defense Bond goal of $20,000 in the drive ending Oct. 27, according to Lloyd J. Wall, bond chairman.

THE OLD AND THE NEW. British soldiers demonstrate contrast between the new .280 rifle (left) and old Enfield, at Warminster, England. New lighter weapon has higher fire rate.

Galion Rotary Hears Talk on School Costs

Special to The Star

GALION—Galion's growth as it is effecting the cost of operaton of public schools was brought out in a talk by Superintendent of Schools M. E Shank. He was speaker Monday at a meeting of the Galion Rotary Club. He is president of the group.

He illustrated his talk with slides on Galion's problems of school finance. He explained that a deficit in 1950 and 1951 is anticipated to be $16,340. The reason for this deficit is because of increase in costs.

Since 1945, there have been 320 new homes built in Galion, Mr. Shank said These do not include the buildings converted into duplexes and apartments There are 1,313 more people in Galion now, than in 1940, he said, a figure equal to a small village

Since 1946, 377 more pupils have been added to the schools, a figure equivalent to one more school building such as Galion has. Teaching staff since then has been increased 17. An average of 67 more babies are born each year. There is no way to economize except at the expense of increasing the teacher load Schools are now operating at 150 percent capacity based on the state's recommendations, the superintendent explained.

Vernon Elects Class Officers

Recently elected officers of Vernon Heights Junior High School are Joe Snouffer, president; Gene Armstrong, vice president; Ann Larkin, secretary, and Pete DeWolfe, treasurer.

Officers were selected by student body elections conducted by the ninth grade citizenship class.

14 Enroll At Harding For English Class

Six Nationalities Represented At New Program

A cosmopolitan group of 14, including Latvians, Norwegians, Poles, Greeks, Chinese and a German war bride, enrolled Tuesday night for a course in basic English for displaced persons and foreigners at Harding High School. The classes are offered to people in the Marion area who desire to improve their speech, as part of the Marion public schools' adult education program in cooperation with the Marion County Ministerial Association.

The first class will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the high school, and will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays for ten consecutive weeks. A. M. Hornby, retired school principal, is teaching the classes. Dr. Henry Schaefer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, has organized the class.

The class Tuesday will consist of an hour of reading at 7 p.m. and an hour of individual instruction at 8 p.m. The Wesley Methodist Youth Group will assist individual class members in learning to count money and to get along in trade at stores.

Dr. Schaeffer reported that all members of the class speak a little English and that some attended the classes last year. He added that the class is still open to others interested in taking the course. These persons may enroll by contacting Floyd Gehres, director of adult education at Harding, or Dr. Schaeffer at 285 Superior street.

Chocolate Coconut Tarts for Halloween

IT S HARD to tell when a Halloween party's the most fun, before or during Well if you've imagination and a liking for weird effects you'll say 'before because decorating cakes and pies can be a party all its own Try coconut chifton tarts to start with

HALLOWEEN TARTS

2 3 cup sugar
¼ t salt
1½ cup m k
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
3 egg whites, unbeaten
1 t vanilla
¾ cup shredded coconut cut
9 baked 4-inch tart shells
Candy corn

Mix gelatin 1/3 cup of the sugar salt and milk in top of double boiler Add chocolate Cook over hot water until chocolate is melted and gelatin is thoroughly dissolved Blend well with rotary egg beater Pour slowly over egg yolks, stirring constantly Return mixture to double boiler and cook 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly Cool 10 minutes

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout Add remaining 1/3 cup sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture will stand in stiff peaks Fold in chocolate mixture gradually blending well Turn into tart shells Make Halloween faces on tarts, using candy corn to form eyes, nose and mouth

"Boy for Sale" Program To Launch Church Campaign

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, Oct. 18 — An evangelistic campaign at the Green Camp Baptist Church will begin with a novel "boy for sale" program Sunday night

Rev Alfred H Nothstine, pastor of the church, will act as auctioneer, calling on bids for the boy from representatives of business, education, the medical profession, the law and the ministry

The boy "offered for sale" will be George D Barber 16, a sophomore at Green Camp School and son of Mr and Mrs Dana G Barber of near Green Camp

Bidders will be given five minutes to tell why their offer should be accepted

Bidders Listed

The bidders will be Donald Sims of Marion, for business Norman C Roettger, supervising principal of the local school, for education, Frederick T Merchant Marion physician and surgeon, for medical profession Walter D Moore of the Marion law firm of Moore and Myers, for attorneys-at-law, and Rev L R Kennard pastor of the local Methodist Church, for ministers of the gospel

Judges selected to weigh the merits of the arguments presented are Arthur E. Haberman of near Green Camp head of the Green Camp branch of the Prospect Citizen's Bank, Edward Dripps, Rube Goshnell, LeMoyne Davis, Harry Kennard, Cicero L Diehl and John A Deeds, all Green Camp businessmen

Rev Nothstine was purposely vague about further details of the novel program in the hopes that curiosity would attract a large number of worshippers

The event will be the opening of the fall evangelistic campaign of the church. A series of "Good News" meetings will continue through Nov 4

Chalk Artists

On Monday, Oct 22, Mr and Mrs. Leonard Draper, chalk artists from Westerville, will be in charge of the meeting

Rev and Mrs Iner L Basinger of Parkersburg, W. Va, evangelists, will have charge of the meetings beginning Tuesday, Oct 23 Rev Basinger is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago and at present is conducting meetings in Iowa.

The evangelists will appear before the students of Green Camp School at an assembly on Wednesday, Oct 24 Children's meetings have been scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 25, Tuesday, Oct. 30 and Thursday, Nov. 1 Transportation to their homes has been arranged for those attending the youth meetings.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

New Treatment for Pink Eye

Though many people believe pink eye to be due to irritation from dust, wind, or smoke, its true cause is infection with germs It is most likely to occur during the spring and fall, and may assume either of two forms, one which is only slightly contagious, and one which is highly so

It is the latter which is at work when pink eye spreads rapidly through a school Thus all children with the condition should be isolated until the infection clears up

The symptoms consist of excessive tearing, followed by a discharge from the eye which is watery at first, and then becomes thicker and pus-like At this stage, an exact diagnosis can be made by looking at a specimen of the pus under the microscope to determine the causative agent

Later there may be an itching smarting, and burning of the lids The person is usually sensitive to light and ordinarily both eyes are involved the infection starting in one eye and spreading to the other.

This condition may become so severe as to seal the eyelids together The membrane covering the eyeball becomes a bright red, hence the name "pink eye"

The infection usually last for from one to two weeks but may sometimes hang on for as long as four If it is very severe, ulcers on the cornea may occur If let alone, the infection may clear up after a long period of unpleasantness

Because of the extreme pain when out in the sunlight, the use of dark glasses is advisable. Cold compresses are sometimes helpful. Caution should be exercised to prevent contamination of the uninfected eye with fingers which have touched the infected eye

Until recently, zinc sulphate was considered the treatment of choice for this condition A solution of streptomycin was tried in conjunction with some silver nitrate and one of the sulfonamide drugs and it was found that the streptomycin alone worked well, but the cure was speeded up by the addition of silver nitrate and the sulfonamide drugs

Of course, all such treatment should be carried out under the direction of the physician

Answer. The symptoms of endocarditis are fever rapid pulse shortness of breath, weakness due to anemia, and the occurrence of small pinhead-like hemorrhages throughout the skin and lining membranes of the mouth and eyes

Trustees Elected For Boys' Fund

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE—A group of citizens met in the mayor's office Tuesday to elect trustees for the Eckert-Rice Trust Fund The two boys were seriously burned recently and remain in Children's Hospital in Columbus

Selected as trustees were A A Remy, Phil Bausch L L Hill, George Beck, and Rev W L Margard

The board then organized and elected Philip Bausch as general chairman and Miss Marie Schill as secretary-treasurer

The funds received to date are $825 and are to be used equally for both boys for hospital and medical expenses More money, Miss Schill states, is coming in each day, but many thousands of dollars will be needed for both boys

UPPER HOSPITAL NOTES

UPPER SANDUSKY—Kenneth Altvater entered the University Hospital at Columbus Sunday for a head and neck operation. Mrs Lloyd McCleary and infant of near Upper Sandusky and Mrs George Heavlin of near Sycamore were discharged from Wyandot Memorial Hospital Sunday

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The elimination of candidates for the chairmanship of the Democratic party has begun and I hear Clinton P. Anderson is out . . . What with the RFC auditing that's going on, some felt this was no time to have a chairman who initials his mail "C. P. A."

• • •

Jim Farley backed away from this one quicker than he went into the dugout on the baseball commissionership.

• • •

Some say he didn't want to be commissioner because he didn't know enough about baseball and he wouldn't want to be chairman because he does know enough about politics.

• • •

• • •

This is pretty late to start a boom unless Ike comes complete with the secret of the H bomb.

• • •

Some can't understand Dewey's enchantment with Eisenhower when Ohio is so much closer to Albany than is Europe but it just demonstrates the old rule that distance makes the heart grow fonder.

Now if Taft would just leave the country for a while there's no telling the sudden rash of affection that would set in.

YEAH... DON'T EVEN BREATHE! IT AIN'T LIKE A TRAININ' CAMP!
AWRIGHT BRING IN TH' CHOW! H-O, FELLAS. WHERE'S ARTIE?
SORRY I'M LATE, BOYS. KNOBBY AND I HAD TO TALK SOME BUSINESS.

NEARLY ALL OF SLO-BURN LOTION SALES SEEM TO BE TO FOREIGN MARKETS—
SO?
IT STRIKES ME A BIT ODD THAT YOU ARE NEGLECTING THE MILLIONS OF POTENTIAL CUSTOMERS ON THIS CONTINENT...
WE OPERATE BY THE LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND...
WE SUPPLY THE LOTION WHERE THE DEMAND EXISTS...AND WHEN I NEED A GEOGRAPHY LESSON, I'LL ASK YOU!
